Northwestern Pennsylvania Music And Forensic Contests In Progress

PROGRAM EXTENDS THROUGH SATURDAY

Morning Winners Given—Expect 2,500 Will Take Part In Program

Between 2,000 and 2,500 student contestants from schools scattered over six northwestern Pennsylvania counties will take part in contests started here today in events of the annual Northwestern Pennsylvania Inter-Scholastic Music and Forensic league.

From the shores of Lake Erie south to Lawrence county's southern border came the army of contestants to strive for the laurels that come to the victorious contestants—and for the right to represent their schools in the state-wide music and forensic competition at Oil City on April 26 and 27.

Coming by private automobile and chartered coach, the youthful throng invaded the North Hill and the East Side for the day-long events that are transpiring at the senior high school and the Benjamin Franklin junior high school.

Continues Saturday.

Tonight the meet continues with the well-rehearsed class A bands and orchestras taking the stage at the Ben Franklin school to decide the winners in those divisions.

All Saturday morning the musical competition will take place in various schools of the city.

Supervising Principal H. M. B. Lehn of Grove City's schools, chairman of the league sponsoring the two-day elimination, estimated assembled contestants at between 2,000 and 2,500.

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Signs, apparently, do not mean a thing to some people. Pa Newc observed a man come out of a store on the Diamond and cut directly across the recently planted grass plot to a restaurant on the other side of the street. A closer observance revealed the fact that there was a well worn path at this point.

* * *

It seems perfectly natural for it to rain on April 11. For the past three years now, precipitation has been noted on this date, and also on April 12.

State highway department workmen have resumed work on repaving part of Highland avenue hill. One side of the cartway, from a point above Grant street and extending south towards Falls street is now torn up and being repaved. Entrance to Highland avenue from Grant street on the west side of the street is blocked entirely as a result.

A 79-year-old Erie lady who for the past 45 years has waited for the New Castle News to arrive in her mail box the morning following publication, today sent her application for renewal to The News. The reader is Mrs. B. C. Rhodes, who has read the newspaper more than 45 years. She was a reader before moving to Erie from here.

Looked to Pa Newc like a college fraternity initiation stunt. Last night, a Westminster youth was busily engaged color painting in front of one of the Washington street store windows. He drew quite a large audience of interested spectators.

Dust Storm In Southwest Does Extensive Damage

Report $18,000,000 Wheat Crop Hard Hit By Swirling Dust Clouds

STORM EXTENDS TO OHIO VALLEY

Schools Closed, Legislators Wear "Masks" In Texas, Towns In Darkness

(International News Service)

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 12.—One of the most severe dust storms in the history of the southwest plains area receded eastward today, its path marked by serious crop destruction and human suffering in a half dozen states.

While the clouds of choking dust reached as far east as the Ohio valley and south into Mississippi, Louisiana and Tennessee, the damage from yesterday's storm was the greatest in Southwestern Kansas, the Texas Panhandle, Southeastern Colorado and Northwestern Oklahoma.

Wheat Crop Ruined

Wheat, the "pay crop" of the southwest, suffered irreparable loss, surveys showed. Most of Oklahoma's best wheat crop has been destroyed, according to Harry B. Cordell, president of the state board of agriculture. An $18,000,000 wheat crop loss was reported in estimates from the Texas Panhandle. Severe losses occurred in Kansas, where the wheat crop was estimated at 47 per cent of normal.

Normal activities were suspended in parts of Kansas, Colorado and Texas while the billowing clouds halted traffic and limited visibility to a few hundred feet. Residents of many darkened communities resorted to dust masks as a protection for their lungs. At Austin, Tex., state senators conducted a session wearing masks.

Schools remained closed in the Western Kansas storm area, and the threat of "dust pneumonia" kept the schools closed in sections of Arkansas.

Homes Vacated

The storm served to accelerate an exodus of families from the marginal lands of Oklahoma, New Mexico

TWO ALARMS FROM SEVENTH WARD BOX

Seventh Ward firemen answered two alarms from Box 714 at 8:20 and 8:40 last evening, but were unable to find any fire in the vicinity and no trace of who turned in the alarms. Police were notified and are investigating. Fire Chief H. Clare Stockman is considering removing the box as six false alarms have been received from this location in a short period of time.

British Government Repudiates Purported Foreign Policy Outline

(International News Service)

LONDON, April 12.—An outline of British foreign policy published by London newspapers on authority of a high official, which caused a sensation at Stresa because it revealed an apparent grave split in the cabinet, was formally repudiated this afternoon.

Following a course of procedure almost without a precedent, the government officially disavowed the outline, but at the same time sedulously declined to reveal the name of the authority who gave it to the press.

Editor's note: In a copyrighted dispatch from Stresa, H. R. Knickerbocker named Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer, as authority for the statement.)

Indications were the repudiation was issued after Prime Minister J.

Hopkins Stands Firm In Demand On State Relief

Says Pennsylvania Must Provide Part Of Own Relief Fund

LONG RANGE PLAN DEMAND OF STATE

Federal Fund Aid Will Not Extend Beyond April 15, He Says

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 12.—A critical situation loomed for Pennsylvania's 1,700,000 unemployed today unless the demand of Federal Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins that a long range program to finance relief be enacted at once succeeds in breaking the deadlock between Gov. George H. Earle and the Republican majority in the senate over his $203,000,000 tax program.

Hopkins' decision to stand by his original ultimatum to withhold relief from Pennsylvania after April 15 unless the state prepared to share the $20,000,000 a month bill by contributing at least $5,000,000 monthly left funds on hand to continue relief only until next Wednesday or Thursday.

His final grant of $4,000,000 for this month, given to Governor Earle in Washington yesterday, was sufficient to carry the relief burden until next Monday, the governor estimated. He said that by delaying payment on bills cash relief could be continued for an additional four days.

Rejects Republican Plan

Hopkins rejected the plan of the Republican senate to meet the emergency by transferring $7,500,000 from special funds, asserting it "obviously would not meet the requirements." He demanded permanent legislation which will yield at least $5,000,000 a month.

"Pennsylvania has received $68,000,000 of federal funds since the first of the year and has supplied not one thin dime itself. It is one of the richest states in the union

Chicago Police Seek Three Gunmen Who Snuffed Out Life Of Sebastian Sapienza

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, April 12.—Police squads searched today for three gunmen who shot and killed Sebastian Sapienza, 44, a state's witness in the murder trial of Sam Bruno last January.

Sapienza was waylaid and shot to death just outside his home last night. The three killers fled. The victim, a barber, testified against Bruno, one of the alleged killers of Joseph Adducci. Bruno was convicted and sentenced to 14 years in prison as one of three men who shot and killed Adducci as he sat in a barber chair being shaved.

Roiderer's trial lasted only a few hours and was featured by his story that the agent under the guise of friendship, encouraged him to make notes on the activities of storm troopers that led to his arrest last June.

State Relief To Continue Next Week In Full

Johnson Says Funds On Hand To Keep Up Regular Plan

HOPE TO PROVIDE PLAN FOR FUTURE

Impasse At Harrisburg Is Expected To Be Broken Next Week

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 12.—Full unemployment relief will continue in Pennsylvania for another week at least despite the threatened withdrawal of federal aid because the legislature has failed to provide funds on a long range basis, state relief director Robert L. Johnson declared today as the state emergency relief board met with Gov. George H. Earle to discuss the new crisis.

"With the $4,000,000 received yesterday there is enough cash on hand to continue unemployment relief in full, including cash relief in Allegheny county and Philadelphia, for at least another week," Johnson said.

To Continue Orders

If the impasse is not broken by the end of next week, the relief board will continue to issue food orders to the needy, Johnson said, explaining such orders do not reach the state for payment until the following month. In this manner food relief can be continued on credit while means are sought to end the relief crisis, Johnson explained.

Funds now on hand will also permit the continuation of special relief activities, such as medical and dental aid, transient camp activities, and distribution of clothing and shelter, Johnson said.

The ultimatum of federal relief administrator Harry L. Hopkins that Pennsylvania will receive no more federal money unless the legislature acts at once was expected to break the deadlock between Governor Earle and the Republican Senate over his $203,000,000 tax program.

(Special To The News)

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., April 12.—Silver went up to 71 cents, so the papers say today, which don't mean much to all of us, for I doubt if we knew what it was before it went up. I guess the 70 cents was what its worth and one cent tax.

Down in Stresa, Italy, the nations only met yesterday and by noon were 100 per cent in discord. Somebody suggested inviting Russia, Germany and Poland. It seems in mailing out the original invitations they had overlooked them.

Its awful hard for three nations to entirely agree on how the other three will be run by them. And this is the kind of a mess that some folks wanted us into.

BODY FOUND IN RIVER BELIEVED TO BE DINSMORE

(BULLETIN)

At 2:30 this afternoon, the body of a man, believed to be that of John Dinsmore, was found floating in the Shenango river, at the foot of Elm street.

Discovery of the body was made by a colored man, who notified police authorities. Because of the condition of the body identification was not possible at the moment. It was clad in a brown suit, the same color as that worn by Dinsmore when he disappeared about two weeks ago.

The body is badly bloated and the face is badly discolored, making the matter of identification difficult, it was stated by those who viewed the body immediately after it was removed from the river.

There seemed to be nothing missing from the man's purse, his jewelry was on his body, and apparently he had not been robbed of any of his personal possessions.

Mr. Dinsmore disappeared at 2 o'clock Saturday morning, March 30, and nothing has been seen of him since, despite police efforts to locate him.

Senate Inquiry Into Federal Expenditures For Relief Is Looming

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 12.—Facing the prospect of having to vote higher taxes to pay the cost of recovery legislation, the senate today appeared determined to find out how the government has spent $3,000,000,000 to date on federal relief of the unemployed.

A resolution, introduced by Senator Couzens (R) Michigan, would authorize the senate appropriations committee to conduct an inquiry into federal relief expenditures. It has the committee's unanimous approval.

Seek Accounting

The Couzens movement marked the first effort in either branch of congress to secure an accounting of relief funds. Heretofore, congress has appropriated billions of dollars for relief and other recovery purposes, leaving expenditures to the discretion of President Roosevelt. It learned, meanwhile, that the president has little knowledge of or supervision over, expenditures, having delegated the spending power to cabinet members and heads of emergency organizations.

The Couzens resolution would order an investigation of the expenditure of nearly $3,000,000,000 by the FERA, headed by the young Harry L. Hopkins. It would inquire not only into expenditures of funds, voted direct to Hopkins' organization, but also of funds turned over to him by the president from other agencies.

The inquiry has the approval of

RWD Workers Complete Work Of Cutting New Street Through

Rural avenue was opened to traffic today and for the first time in months North Hill residents are using the quick way from the Croton-Neshannock avenue district to Park and Delaware avenues.

Under the RWD the street has been changed. Instead of resurfacing the old street which was steep pitched and dangerously curved, a new street has been cut through from the end of the Neshannock avenue paving and meets the old paving at the top of what was the steepest pitch.

The new street is wide and is covered with a nine inch stone base which in turn has been covered with fine limestone. The job removes much of the danger that formerly existed, and is a splendid piece of work.

ACCIDENT OCCURS ABOUT MIDNIGHT

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

ROCKVILLE, Md., April 12.—Percy Line, driver of the school bus in which 14 high school students met their death in a rail crossing smash here last midnight, was formally charged with manslaughter today and bond set at $1,000.

An inquest was set for Tuesday morning.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—Roaring through the fog and rain around midnight, the Baltimore and Ohio's St. Louis to Washington flyer crashed into a school bus filled with singing high school students.

Before daylight the death list was placed at at least 14 with the number expected to rise after a complete canvass of Washington and Maryland hospitals and Rockville homes.

Railroad officials stated the crossing, located just east of Rockville, in nearby Maryland, is protected by a sounding bell. They reported Engineer J. A. Shewbridge blew the regular two long and two short blasts of the whistle, the regular road crossing warning, when his train was some distance away from the cross-over.

The fourteen dead were identified by Mayor Richard Hawkins, who rushed to Rockville from Williams-

CREWS OF TWO BOATS MISSING

Fear Eleven Men Perish

Both Fishing Boats Are Long Overdue—Encountered Storms

COAST GUARD APPREHENSIVE

(International News Service)

LONG BEACH, N. J., April 12. Eleven members of the crews of two fishing boats were sought by coast guard boats along the Atlantic coast between Sandy Hook and Atlantic City early today.

Neither boat has been seen since Monday.

One craft, a sloop, hailing from Atlantic Highlands, N. J., had four men aboard. The other vessel, a two masted schooner, named Peerless, was attached to the Fulton Fish Market in New York City and carried a crew of seven.

Fear For Fate

The sloop was due back at its Atlantic Highlands dock on Tuesday morning while the Peerless should have returned to New York yesterday. Neither ship was equipped with radio.

Coast guardsmen were frankly fearful regarding the fate of the smaller craft. They felt that the Peerless was able to remain afloat in the rough weather of the past week, but that the sloop was not strong enough to withstand the poundings of a heavy sea.

and it is unthinkable that it won't provide for its needy," Hopkins said.

"We have come to the parting of the ways with Pennsylvania and we mean that. Pennsylvania must do its share and do it quickly."

Hopkins expressed belief the legislature will act promptly to meet his demands but Governor Earle was less optimistic at the Washington conference.

"While I cannot conceive of the senate permitting our people to starve by taking a destructionist and obstructionist attitude, anything is possible," he declared, with another blast at Sen. John J. McClure, Delaware, chairman of the powerful senate finance committee, where the governor's tax program is bottled up.

Could Pass Bills

Although the $40,000,000 gasoline tax booster proposed by Governor Earle has been defeated, the senate finance committee still holds other administration tax bills totalling about $164,000,000. Any one of this assortment of bills could be released from committee and passed by Wednesday. Although they would not start revenue flowing into the state at once, such passage would be acceptable, Hopkins said, explaining he would consider it in the nature of a "promisory note."

Hopkins' decision buttressed by pressure from the unemployed was expected to end the legislative maneuvering and partisan bickering that have delayed action since the governor's program was pushed through the house and sent to the senate.

Substitute Program

Republican leaders in the senate for the past several days have been at work on a substitute program which was understood to carry greater estimates than those of the governor for the returns to be expected from new taxes and lower figures for relief costs. Their recommendations may be available by Monday when the legislature reconvenes.

Both senate and house were in adjournment today although the governor had requested earlier in the week that the legislature remain in session until Saturday if necessary to pass a tax program. The Republican senate at once rejected the demand and the house, with little on its calendar, adjourned yesterday afternoon, ending the fifteenth week of the present session.

Hopkins' grant of $4,000,000 brought to $10,000,000 the total Pennsylvania has received this month although the state emergency relief board has estimated the needs at more than $20,000,000.

BRITISH GOVERNMENT REPUDIATES FOREIGN POLICY OUTLINE

Government Statement.

The following statement was authorized by the government:

"It is learned on inquiry in official circles that accounts appearing this morning in certain newspapers regarding British policy should not be taken as representing any new official pronouncements. No new decision has been taken or new official announcements made since the British delegation left for Stresa."

The accounts had stated that the British government would make no commitments at Stresa and desired further information from Germany concerning her ultimate aims.

Government circles stressed publication of the outline was not only due to a "misunderstanding" but that "emphasis" had been placed on the wrong portions of its contents.

Have Open Mind.

It was reiterated MacDonald and Simon have gone to Stresa with an open mind. There has never been any question, it was said, of Brtain's participating in a Danubian or eastern pact, the view being that if there is to be reaffirmation of League of Nations principles, there need be no new commitments.

It was emphasized, moreover, that it is untrue Britain is losing interest in a settlement at Stresa and that there had been no diminution of the realization of the importance of the meeting.

Furthermore, it was said, Britain has never departed from the stand that all points in the Anglo-French communique of February 3 must hang together. Britain, it was stated, has always opposed any alliances directed against anyone but has not opposed conclusion of pacts provided they are left open for others to join.

Rain and snow served to quell the rampaging dust in Western Iowa, Nebraska and parts of Colorado yesterday. Crops in the northwestern states likewise had beneficial rains.

Schools Closed

In the area about Garden City, Kan., kept in total darkness for 48 hours while the dust storm raged, schools remained closed today, but railroad and transcontinental bus lines were gradually resuming regular schedules.

It was so dark in the middle of the day throughout much of the storm area it was impossible for residents of towns to see across the street.

MARYLAND HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS VICTIMS IN CRASH

port soon after news of the tragedy was telephoned there, and listed their names.

High School Students

The children were students of the Williamsport, (Md.), High School. They had attended a chemistry show at the University of Maryland, at College Park, near Washington.

Starting back to Williamsport at 11:30 p. m. with the boys and girls singing merrily, the chauffeur took a back road, the shortest route to the main highway to Williamsport, which crosses the railroad tracks just east of Rockville.

"Just as we came upon the tracks I saw the headlights," said Percy Line, 30, of Hagerstown, Md., the chauffeur. He said he had been driving slowly because of the fog and rain.

"It seemed to me the headlights were literally staring into my windshield," the grief-stricken driver continued. "I stepped on the accelerator and we were almost clear when the smash came. It was as if a giant hand snatched us into the air and tore the bus apart."

The bus was carrying 27 students of the school's senior chemistry class who were in charge of Miss Louise Funk, 27, their teacher.

The driver and teacher were among the few who escaped serious injury because they were riding in the front of the bus while the train smashed into the rear of the vehicle, virtually cutting it in two.

Bad Night For Driving

Miss Funk had just remarked to Pierce about it being a bad night for driving "when the train was on top of us and the bus was wrecked," she said.

"We found bodies and parts of bodies scattered down the right of way for nearly a quarter of a mile, said Dr. G. H. Hartley of Rockville.

He was one of the physicians and residents of the vicinity who administered first aid to the injured and had them sent to Washington and Montgomery County hospitals Others were taken to homes in the vicinity.

"I can only call it a shambles," Dr. Hartley said, "One little girl was decapitated."

Death List

The Rockville fire rescue squad issued this list of the dead and wounded early today, but expect the number to increase during the morning:

The identified dead: Phoebe Kelly, 16; Allen Floria, 18; Mary L. Downs, 15; Lois Winter, 16; Claude Myers 15; Elva Harsh, 17; Leroy Kendle, 15; Norris Downs, 16; Paul McElroy, 16; Mary E. Zimmerman, 15, Virginia Myers, 17; Carl Brindle, 18; Bertha Castle, 16; Pearl Emerson, 16.

The injured: Miss Louise Funk, 27, (teacher); Blanche Long, 16; Thelma Staley, 17; Margaret Creps, 17; Mary Teade, 16; Billy Collier, 15; Albert Leaf, Jr., 17; Edward Hose, 17; William Gower, 14; Malcolm Gower, 17; Dwight Fearnow, 15; Percy Line, 31, (bus driver); James Flury, 18; Helen Blazer, 17.

Start Investigations

Rockville, Md., April 12.—As the little town of Williamsport went into mourning for fourteen of its youth snatched from life in a tragic trains-bus crash last night, three separate investigations of the accident were promptly opened here.

Percy Line, driver of the bus in which the dead boys and girls and 15 others were riding when struck by a Baltimore and Ohio express, was charged with manslaughter and held in $1,000 bail pending an inquest set for next Tuesday morning.

A second probe, launched by the Interstate Commerce Commission, found two federal safety engineers, G. V. Lovering and T. B. Smith, on the scene of the tragedy.

Baltimore and Ohio officials opened the third investigation, sending their own engineers here to determine how and why the wreck occurred.

Ironically enough the grade crossing where the crash occurred was to have been supplanted in a few months by a high level bridge. Officials of the railroad disclosed that they had completed negotiations with the state highway commission for elimination of the grade crossing.

Supervising in a general way, the Senior high and Franklin programs today was Prof. Joseph F. Replogle, head of instrumental music for the Senior high school and treasurer of the league conducting the meet.

In the various contest halls teachers are serving as chairmen of the programs.

Saturday's contests, expected to be closed shortly before noon, will bring more solo events because today's musical events were confined to group competition.

Classes at Senior high and Ben Franklin were dismissed all day to allow the visiting students complete use of the school buildings.

Have Hopes Of Averting Strike

Hold Hope That Rubber Strike At Akron, O., May Be Prevented

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 12.— Hope of averting a threatened strike of union rubber workers at Akron, Ohio, was expressed this afternoon by Secretary of Labor Perkins, as she held her first meeting with representatives of the union employes.

While Miss Perkins was conferring with Coleman Claherty and worker representatives from the Firestone, Goodrich and Goodyear plants, the employers were holding a conference over a plan suggested by the labor secretary.

"Things do not look so black as they did 24 hours ago," Miss Perkins said. "However, there is much ground to be covered before I can be positive of accomplishment."

Difference In Latitude Causes Two Arbor Days

Eastern And Southern States Observe Earlier Date For Planting

HARRISBURG—The reason for observing two spring Arbor Days, on April 12 and 26, as announced in Governor Earle's recent proclamation, is because the planting seasons are not the same in all parts of Pennsylvania.

According to Dr. James F. Bogardus, deputy secretary of the Department of Forests and Waters, the earlier date was selected for planting in the southern and central counties, and the latter date in the north-tier counties.

The kinds of trees suitable for Arbor Day planting have been listed by Dr. Bogardus.

Shade and roadside trees: Red oak, white oak, pin oak, sugar maple (in north), Norway maple, tulip tree (yellow poplar), American elm, sycamore, linden and beech.

Park and ornamental trees: Red pine, arborvitae, Norway spruce, blue spruce, hemlock (the state tree of Pennsylvania), Scotch pine, white birch, dogwood, honey locust.

Nut bearing trees: Black walnut, butternut hickories, chestnut (blight proof varieties), and pecan (in southern part).

FIXIN' UP THE PLACE

It would be a work of love and of an expert mathematician even to estimate the foot tons of human energy involved. For householders, either personally or by hired substitutes, are busy these days raking off the mulch, inspecting what is left of the perennials, burning the old leaves and generally emerging from the long sleep of winter.

Needless to say, it is a lot of fun. Tidying up the place is a continuous endeavor, just now seemingly at one of its climaxes.

A dignified gentleman of less or more adipose development seizes a rake and (for a while) goes through the motions of being a hardy son of the soil, later to take up a dignified position (usually sitting down) on the front porch while the young folk go to it.

It is a never-ending source of amazement to the householder to find out what an immense amount of utterly useless truck gets itself spread abroad over the place during a not-so-difficult winter.

Nevertheless and notwithstanding it is great to be a husbandman—in April. It is not so thrilling when July comes and the weeding is at its height, but delightful now, especially if some one else does it.

UNCLE SAM'S SPENDING

It may be surprising to many to learn that the spending of the United States government during the first three years of the present administration will approximately equal the sum spent in the whole first 124 years of our national existence, but it is a fact.

From the beginning of President Washington's first term in 1789 until the end of President Taft's term in 1913 the total expenses of the government were $24,521,845,000. According to the best estimates available, with figures taken from official sources, the expenses of the government will reach a total of about $24,206,533,000 during President Roosevelt's first three years in office.

During the first 124 years of our government the average annual cost was $5.26 for each person. In the last three years it has risen to an average of $64.55 for each person.

The new $4,880,000,000 work-relief bill alone involves more money than it cost the United States to fight the War of 1812, the Mexican War, the Civil War and the Spanish-American War combined.

Spending by states and local governments has also increased tremendously in recent years, and legislative bodies are at their wits' end trying to devise new taxes and increases of present taxes to meet the insatiable demands of the tax spenders.

All this is something for every serious-minded citizen to think about.

NO WONDER AT RESPONSE

There is of course no wonder that little if any favorable comment was elicited by M. Litvinoff's purported suggestion to Captain Anthony Eden, during their conference at Moscow, that the United States be invited to join in a five-power pact guaranteeing peace in the Orient. Uncle Sam, at this time, is entirely too wise to join any pacts which are apt to result in war rather than peace. We will join no entangling agreement either in the Orient or in Europe.

If Litvinoff had any sense of humor he would "laugh himself to death" in making any "agreement" suggestion after the way the Soviet-American conference turned out in Washington. It will be remembered that Mr. Litvinoff was there and that in return for American recognition we were promised huge sums in Russian trade and the repayment of some very stale debts. In good faith, we recognized the Soviet government.

But not a dollar has appeared on the debts and our trade with Russia has declined rather than increased. After that experience Mr. Litvinoff must at least have smiled behind his hand in making another suggestion for a pact with America. But having played rings around our diplomats once he may think he can do it again. It is reported that British, French and Italian diplomats are now flirting diplomatically with Soviet Russia. It is to be hoped for their own sakes that they knew what they are doing. A Soviet agreement with a capitalist nation is worth about as much as an ice cube in an arctic blizzard.

THE LESSON IN A MASTER

The two hundred and fiftieth anniversary of Johann Sebastian Bach, celebrated recently, came at a time when the public was better able than ever before to appreciate the work of this great musical composer, who many believe was the greatest of them all. Bach has always had his worshipers but his music has been widely assumed to be beyond the appreciation of the musically untrained. Even his own generation, and those immediately following, did not rate him at his full worth. Mendelssohn, a century later, is given credit for making the musical world understand what a great creative artist Bach was. Schumann said music owes almost as great a debt to him as a religion owes to its founder.

Lately appreciation of Bach has grown to the proportion, but not the ephemeralness, of a vogue. That is largely due to the expanding understanding and enjoyment of music. Every way we turn, music is in the air; some good, some bad, some commonplace. We hear so much of it that the commonplace palls. Only great music will stand constant repetition. So the great masters come into their own.

There is a lesson in Bach's history for those who are interested in the development of music. It took five generations of musicians to produce him. His great-great-grandfather, Veit Bach, is generally considered the creator of the Bach musical tradition. He was a baker and miller who played the zither to the accompaniment of his mill-stones. Veit's son, Hans, a carpet maker by trade, made music his profession. Hans' genius descended through his son and grandson, to Johann Sebastian, in whom it flowered most brilliantly.

It will take more than one generation to produce a musical America. But we are on our way. American talent is about to receive greater encouragement. With patience and steadiness this development can go far and fast.

About the only difference we can see in the European situation is that formerly the allies knew from their own observation that Germany was arming and now Hitler has told them.

Planting trees in a region where trees won't grow isn't any more illogical than plowing under grain and then hoping to increase the export of grain.

I COULD BE PERFECT, BUT—

I know a lot about raising children properly....I have read dozens of books on the subject. I have done much thinking about it. I used to get rather good "marks" in school so at least I have a good memory regardless of what you may think of my intelligence.

So I know about children....I used to be one of them and I think I remember what it was like.

I know what they should eat.
I know how much sleep they should have.
I know how they should be treated
I have a fairly accurate idea of what goes on in their minds and what they think of grown-ups. (I am not always sure of this, however.)
I know that what they say should be heard respectfully and that they should be treated with consideration.
I know that children like to know where they stand: they like a "no" to mean "yes."
I know that parents shouldn't fuss and nag.
They should treat their children as intelligent human beings.
They should not let small irritations trouble them.
They should always keep their promises.
They should be their children's friends.
Their homes should be quiet and restful and really HOME for the young people, where the truth can always be told and where the child will be happy and at ease.
In fact, I know a lot about what a parent should be and I know a lot more than I have set down here. If I tried to write all that I know about raising children it would fill a fat book and people would write me for advice and I would be a recognized expert on the subject.
BUT—
But my knowledge is far greater than my ability to perform. I know a lot, but I don't do a lot. I could be perfect, but you can ask any of my children if I AM.. ..And I'd rather not be there when you ask.

DISCRETION SHOULD GOVERN THE TIME AND PLACE FOR STORY-TELLING.

Don't be so anxious to tell your story that you don't give the crowd time enough to enjoy the one the other fellow has told.

In every story-telling crowd there is one person who pays little attention to the stories of his friends

Almost before one has finished, he bursts into a recital of his story.

Having gained attention, he forces one story after another on the coterie.

The story-telling fellow injects his stories into nearly every conversation till he becomes a pest.

Hhe does not mind interrupting conversations to "tell 'em one."

The talk among friends may be far more interesting than anything he could say, but each point made reminds him of something—and away he goes.

If he would evolve some ideas of his own about important questions of the day, it might be more welcome and appreciated than his eternal stories.

Nearly every one loves a good story, but few can tell new ones.

Few people can tell dialect stories, but most folk attempt them.

It takes a fine sense of discrimination to know what story to tell and when to tell it, but the persistent story-teller has no discretion.

He has the erroneous idea that people want to hear stories at all times.

JANET'S ADVANCED STUDIES

Time was she thought me very wise,
But now so far is she in school
She looks at me with saddened eyes
As adoration starts to cool.
She's needing help and turns to me
Expecting it upon the spot,
And I confess shamefacedly
What French I knew I've now forgot.

I see her frowning o'er her books,
Her lovely brow lined deep with doubt,
And, bending over her, I look
At what her worry's all about.
Then silently I slip away
Since nothing helpful I can do.
I have forgotten many a day
What little algebra I knew.

Now Caesar with his Gallic Wars
Frets her as once he fretted me.
'Tis strange what woes he lived to cause,
As both the young and old agree.
Together on the couch we sit
Above those commentaries bent,
And I am baffled and admit
I can't tell now what Caesar meant.

Sometimes the twinkles in her eyes
I'm sure a secret glee display
As I, who once have seemed so wise,
My total ignorance display.
Her mother in her quiet way
Also enjoys my plight a lot.
She winks at Janet when I say:
"I knew that once but I've forgot!"

HOME WORK

Millions of school children throughout America will cheer Dr. Paul A. Witty, professor of education at Northwestern University, who denounced home work in a Kansas City address. If the youngsters possessed the vote and Dr. Witty was running for President or other office he would be elected unanimously.

Dr. Witty was serious when he asserted:

"Home work is useless, vicious, unnecessary and stupid. The child should be allowed the freedom of the home to do as he pleases, to read whatever he chooses or otherwise engage in a hobby or a vocational pursuit."

Students will agree, although many educators will not. Children may acquire more actual knowledge through their studies at home than in the classes at school, as the former allow for individual efforts, while the latter are spread out among all the pupils.

But home work may be excessive. A child deserves a certain amount of time for recreation, for a chance to play in the open air. Where long lessons are handed out, the young person is required to devote more hours to work than are authorized by codes for adult laborers. They spend about six hours in classes and then add two or three hours to that for home studies and they have little leisure for themselves.

Complete abolition of home work may not be possible if a thorough education is to be acquired, but it should be limited within reason.

ACCIDENT PREVENTERS

Dr. Frederic W. Bancroft, associated professor of clinical surgery at Columbia university, reveals that there is a movement among medical men to foster the establishment of a long chain of medical first-aid stations along American highways for traffic acident victims.

Frequency of such accidents, he points out, makes it necessary to provide some means of giving first-aid treatment to victims. A series of first-aid stations would save many lives and prevent much suffering.

It might also have another good effect. The presence of such a chain of dressing stations might shock us into realizing how intolerable our traffic accidents toll really is.

Properly shocked, we might some day be stirred into taking action that would make highway traffic safer.

What Tomorrow May Bring.

Central Press

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, April 12.—To adjudge the present time, one must project himself a century into the future and look back.

That is the advice given to the writer of this column by a popular writer.

We cannot look upon the present, as a part of it, without bias and prejudice and partiality.

* * *

LOOKING BACK

There is a book, recently published, which does look back a century—upon the past century, of course.

"Queen Victoria", by E. F. Beson, noted English writer, is the book.

Written with an impartiality and a restraint and a clarity that sweep away the obscurities of the past, this volume seems more like a prophecy than a requiem. The volume seems to infer that others 100 years hence will look back on us much in the same manner that we are looking back on the Victorian age.

We say, as we read: "Could this have been possible—less than a hundred years ago?"

Human rights, even in the most democratic of countries, were negligible, as we consider them.

Despite the trappings of royalty (paid for with untold millions taken from the meager earnings of the under classes), misery and want and disease were the order of the times.

Royalty itself was a victim of diseases which today we have wiped out.

But the ironical fact, the uppermost fact, is this: The want, the misery, the lack of progress of the people, the disease itself sprang from a determination of the ruling classes to maintain the status quo. And that very determination, that dogged stubbornness (which was hailed then as patriotic courage) led to wars and the toppling of nearly all the thrones of Europe. Instead of preserving the integrity of the status quo, instead of bringing stability and happiness, that policy brought instability, frightfulness and chaos.

As we look back, we exclaim: "What stupidity!"

But how should we have acted if we had lived in the conditions of one hundred years ago?

* * *

TODAY

Will our descendants of one hundred years hence say of us: "What stupid persons they were!"

In England the first men to organize workers into a union were deported in prison ships to far away penal islands.

In the United States today persons who try to organize workers in independent unions are termed Communists and are sentenced to prison under anti-syndicalism laws as traitors to the government.

In England a century or so ago, the Whigs were in power, and the Tories were considered, in the beginning, much as left-wing Socialists are considered now. In a mere few years, the Tories were considered the reactionaries and the Liberals arose and defeated the Tories

Then the Labor party arose. There were alarms. "Civilization would perish" if it got into power.

But the Labor party did get into power, and civilization went a few steps ahead.

The party suffered a reverse, but signs point to its victory again in England.

Prior, however, to the end of a century since the mid-Victorian reign, there are likely to be far more radical and drastic parties rising to wipe out the Laborites. Blackshirts and Communists certainly will not be the end. Five parties succeeded one another in power in England within a century. And each successively was reviled and feared by the throne and the interests behind the throne.

Queen Victoria refused to call the Tories into office when first they defeated the Whigs. (She was compelled to, later.) She was certain the world would end if the Whigs did not remain. Then, she felt the same when the Liberals ousted the Tories. She made life miserable for the Liberal prime minister, whom the people desired.

Queen Victoria did not trust the judgment of the people, except when their minds were fanned into an imperialistic, nationalistic flame.

* * *

TOMORROW

Can we visualize what tomorrow will bring?

Or does the inevitable anger us, as it angered the Victorians, who endeavored to retard progress, although it would have saved them much anguish?

Can we not picture a world in which there is a much larger sharing of the profits of production?

Can we not picture a world in which social security will have advanced to far greater stages than we can foresee at the present time?

Can we not picture a world in which we shall consider our present divorce laws immoral, because they, in some states, force mismated persons to live together unless they can prove scandal against each other?

Is there not a possibility that the future will turn back to our page in history and smile over the narrow bickerings which governed our snaillike pace toward social, economic and political freedom?

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

JUST LANGUAGE.

A large sized truck was proceeding northward on the avenue when one of the tires went wrong. The driver jacked the wheel up and started to remove the tire but it would not budge.

Mildly he began to curse and with cars piling up behind him and drivers shouting to speed up, his curses became more vehement. In the crowd that always collects at any mishap was a clergyman. Says the clergyman:

"Why not offer a little prayer instead of using strong language?" and the driver did. To his surprise off came the tire.

"Well, I'll be damned!" murmured the clergyman.

TODAY Is The Day

By CLARK KINNAIRD — Copyright 1935 — Central Press

FRIDAY, APR. 12

Today's Yesterdays—April 12, 65 A. D.—Infantile, 23-year-old Emperor Nero of Rome sent a message to Lucius Seneca, 53, ordering the Spanish-born Stoic philosopher to destroy himself, and satisfied a schoolday's grudge.

Nero hated the philosopher because when he was Seneca's pupil Seneca had humiliated him for his dumbness.

The philosopher calmly got into a hot bath, opened a vein, swallowed poison. He was survived by a reputation for having a prodigious memory, and by correspondence with St. Paul the Apostle that indicated he was one of the first Christians.

Seneca's philosophy has lived for 19 centuries. Typical Seneca thought, He who begs timidly courts a refusal.

Apr. 12, 1606—James I combined the banners of St. George and St. Andrew to make the "Union Jack", which today flies over more of the world then any other flag.

Erroneous is the belief that in "Union Jack", an illusion to the union of the two kingdoms, the word Jack is a corruption of Jacques, the French for James. Actually it comes from jacque, a surcoat emblazoned with St. George's cross. With James' decree came the "union jacque", or "Union Jack".

Apr. 12, 1693—The first printing-press in New York was set up by William Bradford, 35, Quaker. On it he did the official printing of New York, New Jersey, Rhode Island and Maryland, and produced the Gazette, the first newspaper in New York.

Apr. 12, 1861—A shot was fired that was heard around the world.

H. P. Brewer, Texan, gave the order. Edmund Ruffin, 75-year-old Virginian, fired the gun, a mortor in Fort Johnson, in the harbor of Charleston, S. C. It awakened the dogs of war, brought answering shots from Ft. Sumter. The blow that was to start the War Betw en the States had been struck.

Notable Nativities—Henry Clay, b. 1777, who had devoted most of his best years to seeking to avert the conflict between North and South which broke out on his 84th birthday. He decided he'd rather be right than president, and he was defeated for the presidency three times....Francis P. Blair, b. 1791, lawyer who sought to end the war in 1864 by meeting Jefferson Davis in a secret conference at Hampton Roads and risked being shot for treason....Grenville M. Dodge, b. 1831, engineer who built the Union Pacific railroad and connected east and west under great difficulties. He laid 1,086 miles of rail....Julian Street, b. 1879, American author.

You're Wrong If You Believe—That the U. S. government can issue greenbacks cheaper than it can borrow money.

Actually, as long as the government's credit is good, and banks have excessive amounts of unemployed funds, this isn't true. In March the treasury could obtain money on 180-day discount bills at only 0.11 per cent interest. The cost of issuing greenbacks would have been 0.15 per cent, counting expense of printing, placing in circulation, etc.

That the machine called an electrical generator generates electricity.

It doesn't, Paul W. Dobson, Clarington, Pa., tells us: it is a collector of electricity, which is in abundance everywhere.

That islands always are stationary bodies of land.

They aren't. One, for instance, Sabine Island off East Greenland, has drifted westward more than a hundred metres in the last 60 years.

Correctly Speaking—

Avoid illogical and excessive coordination, put subordinate thoughts into subordinate form.

Most men employ the first part of life to make the other part miserable—La Bruyere.

"Plump Figures Out", say fashion experts. "You're Telling Us?" say auditors.

Will Seek Funds For Carrying Out Of Elaborate Flood Control Program

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 12.—Funds will be sought under the $4,000,000,000 work program to carry out the elaborate flood control plan in the Allegheny and Monongahela river basin sponsored by the tri-state authority, Rep. Quinn (D) Pennsylvania, announced today.

He also will seek passage of a bill he introduced in the house as a part of a program being framed by the house floor control committee.

The bill authorizes the construction of thirteen dams, chiefly on tributaries of the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers at an estimated cost of more than $50,000,000.

Store Flood Water

The plan, Quinn explained, is to store flood water in these reservoirs in Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Ohio. Not only would floods thus be controlled in the vicinity of Pittsburgh, but the storage would regulate the flow of the Ohio river and help prevent floods in the Mississippi valley, he said.

State Senator W. B. Rogers of Pennsylvania, who is president of the tri-state authority and other officials will be invited to attend a hearing which Quinn expects to arrange before the House Flood Control committee in the near future.

Conference Of W. C. T. U. Takes Place Thursday

Five Unions Gather For Morning And Afternoon Sessions In Liberty Grange

The W. C. T. U. conference comprised of the Slippery Rock, East Brook, Energy, Plaingrove and Harlansburg unions met Thursday in the Liberty grange.

Seventy-one members answered to roll call. The hall was filled to capacity with friends of the different unions. Mrs. Mae McConaghy presided at the morning session with Mrs. Frank L. Adams, religious director of the Plaingrove union, led the devotional period with a circle of prayer by the members. The devotionals were closed with a song, "Lead On, O King Eternal."

Mrs. Merle Stetson gave a pleasing and inspiring talk on the medal contest department. Introduction of the county officers followed. Those responding were: the president, Mrs. W. G. Wilkins; Mrs. Joseph McClaren, treasurer; Miss Margaret Peebles, recording secretary; Mrs. Joseph Burton, institute director; Mrs. G. G. Stetson, director of medal contests; Mrs. Irwin Stevenson, exhibits and fair exhibits; Mrs. Margaret Shaw, director of religious education.

A trio from the Slippery Rock union sang "Whispering Hope." A playlet, "Follow the Gleam," was presented by members of the Harlansburg union. Mrs. Forbes gave the noontide prayer. Mrs. Bell gave a beautiful story of the life of Frances Willard.

Mrs. Lula Hettenbaugh presided at the afternoon session. Mrs. Johnson, of Energy, led the devotionals, telling of the beautiful Easter story, "This Is My Father's World."

Rev. Hammond Speaks

Rev. William Hammond, pastor of the Center Baptist church, gave an inspiring message. Mrs. Black pleased the audience as she spoke fluently on the "Peace Problems." Mrs. Wilkins, county president, talked on membership, taking the scriptural text, "Go Work Today In My Vineyard." Some very pointed remarks were given by G. D. Harger, of Pittsburgh, state chairman of the Prohibition party, which is still on the ticket in Lawrence county.

Mrs. Merle Stetson presented, in a very charming manner, a reading entitled, "A Mother's Prayer." Mrs. Scott sang, "The Palms," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Mae McConaghy. A duet, "I Want To Be A Christian," was sung by Mrs. Scott and Mrs. Harry Baxter. The Harlansburg L. T. L. gave a demonstration in songs, pledges and a playlet. Miss Luella Moorhead and Miss Elizabeth Dean, are sponsors of the L. T. L. in the Harlansburg consolidated school. Miss Irene Wallace rendered a lovely piano selection.

The Slippery Rock union presented a play, "The Silver Bullets," in which Mrs. Leslie McCracken proved a charming and wise grandmother who taught lessons without seeming to teach.

The poster contest was won by Hannah Peebles, of Harlansburg. Judgs were: Mrs. W. G. Wilkins, Mrs. Joe McClaren and Mrs. Irwin Stevenson. Rev. Greenlee pronounced the benediction.

"Funny, but I don't get the same 'kick' out of Easter that I used to."

This is what a man said to his wife the other morning at breakfast.

Do you want to know WHY he is not getting the same thrill? That's easy.

You see, he is not paying any attention to Easter and naturally Easter is not going out of its way to show him a good time.

If this man will start winking at Easter with a new suit . . . nodding to Easter with new neckdress and bowing to Easter with a new hat . . . Easter will take him by the arm and lead him back to where Easter was a great big eventful day.

Co-Eds Forbidden To Mix With Male Students At College

(International News Service)

BOONE, N. C.—Co-education is all right in class-rooms, but in the gymnasium, on the campus, and in most of the extra-curriculum activities at the Appalachian State Teachers College here it is strictly taboo.

The college faculty is determined to keep it just that way. But 50 or more male students have demanded a "New Deal" in keeping with "modern education."

They would like to have "dates" with the girls for the various college functions beyond the walls of academic learning, such as athletic contests. They feel that co-education should extend into the sphere of social relationships as well as in the more formal quest for wisdom.

Many of the students left their classes recently in an open revolt against the system. They returned, however, without accomplishing their purpose.

The student strike was preceded by a demonstration at a basketball game. About 50 of them left the "male" side of the gymnasium and invaded the "female" section. Such an uproar over infractions of rules ensued that play was stopped and the game forfeited to the opposing team. The boys escorted the girls to the girl's dormitories where they were met by police. After a battle the male students were dispersed.

The Appalachean State Teachers' College has a brand of "co-education" which is unique in American institutions of higher learning.

Observe Cotton Day At School

W. N. Aiken School Has Unusual Program This Afternoon

STUDIED COTTON PAST FOUR WEEKS

Cotton, how it is planted, grown, woven into various cloths and its uses, was depicted in a cleverly presented unit, by students of the Fourth Grade, this afternoon.

Pupils and faculty of the institution played hosts and hostesses to a number of residents of the district early this afternoon. In the library, the gathering saw a number of miniature displays created by the fourth graders. A miniature cotton plantation, with its cabins and home of the colonel, a small cotton gin, made by Arthur Scarazzo, a store showing the selections of cotton materials, booklets telling the whole story of cotton, were among the interesting exhibitions.

A program, originated by the students, interesting from start to finish, brought to a close Cotton Day. The scenery was made by the boys and girls. During the past 12 weeks, fourth graders studied cotton, from the time it is planted to the time it is formed into dresses, suits, etc. The following faculty supervisors were in charge of the event: Miss Margaret Hemphill, geography teacher; Miss Elsie Wasco, English teacher Miss Carrie Cunningham, art teacher; Miss Evea Coulter, music instructor; Miss Martha Hanna, reading teacher, and Miss Leona Sankey, physical teacher

Hanlan Tells AAA's Work For Motorists

Motor Club Secretary Speaks Before Y's Men; Pays Jameson Tribute

Pleading for greater safety on the highways, Bernard N. Hanlon, secretary-manager of the New Castle Motor club, told the Y's Men's club last night at the Y. M. C. A. that during 1934 there was an auto accident death every 15 minutes and an injury every 29 seconds.

Hanlon related at length the work of the American Automobile Association and paid tribute to the memory of the late David Jameson, New Castle's benefactor and one of the founders of the AAA. Automobiles in Lawrence county, he said, now number 16,000.

Mr. Hanlon was introduced by Alec Samuels, member of the club, and a governor of the motor club.

Declare Hen Can Sit Or Set

(International News Service)

INDIANAPOLIS, April 12.—The executive offices of the schools here have determined that grammatically a hen can sit or set.

Virgil Stinebaugh, junior high school director of a revision of a reader for first grade pupils write "The sitting hen and her chicks."

Paul C. Stetson, city superintendent of schools, who was born on a farm, filed a protest saying he was for the good old Hoosier language of a "setting hen." He contended that a hen could not "sit" grammatically.

The school executives divided equally in their opinions. The matter was referred to a Springfield, Mass., publishing company where Webster's dictionary had its beginning.

The dictionary concern issued a special bulletin which summed up said: "It is evident that you set or sit a hen and that a hen sets or sits as you may prefer."

BUY GAS MASKS

(International News Service)

PARIS, April 12—The French population was urged to buy gas masks immediately for emergency use, in a communique issued today by the sub-committee on passive defense of the prefecture of police.

The appeal was the latest move in the drive to keep Frenchmen 'air-minded" and eternally ready for air raids.

Tobacco seedlings are transplanted to the open fields in the early spring.

For two years or more the mild ripe Chesterfield tobaccos are stored in wooden hogsheads to age.

Machines like this — new and modern in every respect — make Chesterfields.

What do you mean, three years from seed bed to cigarettes...

I mean simply this—it actually takes about three years to make a Chesterfield cigarette.

It all starts with these little plants, called tobacco seedlings. They are grown under cover and transplanted to the open fields in the early spring.

Then the warm Southern sunshine begins to get in its good work and as the plants grow and ripen the mild ripe leaves are cut and sent to the curing barns. The farmer then takes his tobacco to the auction warehouse where it is sold to the highest bidder. All of this takes about a year.

The tobaccos for Chesterfield cigarettes are then stored away for two years or more to make them milder and taste better.

It all takes time—just about three years—but there is no substitute for mild ripe tobacco in making a good cigarette. That's the reason smokers—men and women—say that Chesterfields are milder and that Chesterfields taste better.

On Court House Hill

Notary public commission for M. E. Alexander of this city, was filed yesterday at the register and recorder's office.

Janitors Clifford James and E. C. McCracken have rolled the court house lawn and planted grass seed. They have also posted "keep of the grass" signs.

Common pleas court for this week was concluded with the trial of the case of Dr. Elmer B. Russell against the executors of the John W. Cummings estate.

Yesterday was the last day for filing executions on properties to be sold by the sheriff in May. There were around twenty, about the same number as were sold this month.

Another term of common pleas court will be held during the week of April 22, making the third term held this month. Principal interest will center in the case of the Thayer company against the County of Lawrence for $24.280 commissions for drawing plans for a new court house.

Attorney Laurell E. Christley, workmen's compensation referee for this district who has heard many cases here, has resigned his post, effective April 15. Mr. Christley has been in continuous service with the Department of Labor and Industry for 19 years. He plans to resume his practice of law in Butler.

County Commissioners Clerk, William A. Eakin, who has been computing the taxes for 1935 in the different districts of the county, has completed all of the boroughs and townships, and a part of the City of New Castle. The wards of the city, not yet completed are the second, third and fourth. As soon as the work is finished the duplicates will be given to County Treasurer, William O. Pitts.

Under the will of the late John M. Pontius of East Brook station, his wife Sarah E. Pontius is to receive the proceeds of an insurance policy in the Woodmen of the World, and $1000. Ezra A. Pontius, a son, $300 in trust for the use of Fern S. Pontius. The remainder is to go to his children, Ezra A. Pontius, Fred M. Pontius, Fern S. Pontius, Grace P. Reynolds, and Beulah P. Garner. Two grandchildren, Geraldine Mills and Gerald Pontius, sons of John F. Pontius, are to share in the estate. Ezra A. Pontius is named as executor, with power to sell property as soon as a satisfactory price can be secured.

Anna E. Myers, of King avenue, Union township, has filed an application for divorce from her husband, Howard S. Myers, also of Union township. The couple were married in March, 1908 and lived together until Jan. 1st., 1935. The application is made on the grounds of indignities.

In a case of Mary Janovick against Mike Corski, involving a piece of property, a citation has been awarded on the defendant to show cause why possession of the property should not be turned over to the plaintiff.

Some years ago the county purchased a site in Union township for an armory. At the time of purchase it was urged that it would be a benefit in the way of employing labor, and the furnishing of materials. However nothing was done toward the erection of the building, once the land was secured. It now looks as though the project may again be revived as an aid to unemployment.

Under the will of the late Stanley Serwatki, which has been probated at the register and recorder's office, a daughter, Anna Pilch, is given a property on Denver avenue. Other bequests are made to Anna Pilch and Frances Sokevitz.

POLICEMAN'S HOME VISITED BY THIEVES

(International News Service)

HOMESTEAD, Pa., April 12.—Even the homes of police sergeants are not safe from the encroachment of thieves these days.

While Sergeant Paul Dean of the West Homestead police force was on duty and his wife had taken their children out for an automobile ride, robbers ransacked the Dean home, obtaining a quantity of money, several rings and a necklace.

Wheat Farmers To Share $32,000,000

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 12—Approximately $32,000,000 was made available to wheat farmers today when Secretary of Agriculture Wallace approved making of 1935 adjustment payments to wheat producers for whom this year's minimum planting requirement have been waived because of extreme drouth conditions.

The payments, the secretary said, are "a partial crop income insurance for the producers in the drouth areas."

Almost all people who try to formulate the good find it in one or more of three things: pleasure, virtue or self-realization.

TROUT FISHERMEN WATCH WEATHER REPORTS

Thousands Will Line State Streams

Trout Fishing Season In State Will Open On Monday

WEATHER MARRING OPENING PROSPECTS

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 12—Like the navigator charting his course with an eye to the elements, an army of some 200,000 fishermen in Pennsylvania today eagerly scanned weather reports for an indication of stream conditions on the opening of the trout season Monday.

The weather has always figured prominently in the plans of anglers, with rains dampening hopes for a good catch and a dry spell insuring ideal conditions. This week's invasion of King Winter, the state fish commission reported, drastically altered the trout picture and unless sudden recession of high waters follow, the opening day may prove somewhat discouraging.

Reports of Conditions.

Latest reports of conditions of mountain and meadow streams from wardens follow:

J. F. Bergman, Butler county—"Trout streams in this section clear and in good condition for opening day."

C. V. Long, Juniata county—"All streams in Perry, Juniata and Mifflin counties are swollen considerably due to fall of snow and rain. Some mountain sections have foot of snow, which may keep streams up for several days. Kishacoquillas creek above Belleville, Mifflin county, should be in good condition as it drains off more quickly."

H. P. Boyden, Wellsboro, Tioga county—"Waters very high and Big Pine creek cannot possibly be ready before middle of next week. There should be some good fishing in the smaller waters of Tioga county in the event warm weather within the next few days melts the snow."

J. Albert Johnson, McKean county—"A few warm days and no more rain are necessary to produce good trout fishing in McKean county waters."

J. H. Simmons, Warren county—"Trout streams in this section all in excellent condition for fishing. Flow about normal."

W. E. Briggs, Erie county—"Trout streams in Erie county all below normal spring level and very clear."

There isn't much choice between the Long and Townsend proposals. Huey's plan was louder, but Townsend's was funnier.

Two Men Die By Suicide Bullets

Two Men, Killers Of Wives, Die In Philadelphia Today Of Wounds

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, April 12—Death from self-inflicted bullet wounds today had mercifully ended the turbulent domestic lives of two men who killed their wives here this week.

Antonio De Marco, 55-year-old peddler, who slew his wife and four children, died after surgeons had removed a bullet imbedded in his skull. Neither of his two surviving children Justino De Marco, of this city, and Mrs. Mary Gerratti, of Wilmington, Del., were at his bedside when he died.

An hour before De Marco's death, Herman Zeitz, 39, who on Monday shot himself twice, slashed his wrists and jumped from a second-story window after killing his wife, Elizabeth, 39, died in Delaware county hospital.

De Marco's surviving children today made arrangements to bury their father, mother, two sisters and two brothers on Monday.

FIREMAN GETS HOT

(International News Service)

NEWBURYPORT, Mass.—It was night, deep night, Newburyport. The telephone suddenly rang in Central fire station. Sleepy firefighters rushed from their beds and one of them answered the telephone.

"Will you please tell me how cold it is?" a man's voice asked.

"Ten below!" he untruthfully replied and returned to bed.

DIVORCE RATE RISES, 1,800,000 WIVES ARE PUT ON ALIMONY DOLE

By MARGARET GARRAHAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK—This love in a cottage stuff is pretty shaky business at best, it is indicated by calculations of the Alimony Reform League.

Revealing results of a research into marital durability and alimony costs, the League declared more than 17 per cent of all marriages in this country end in divorce, while more than 35 per cent terminate in some form of separation, then sl'ot this warning at young hopefuls:

"You have only 35 chances in 100 of remaining married more than a year."

Of every 1,000 persons in the United States, an average of 78 are married and 13 divorced each year, the report read, venturing the prediction that 74,817 marriages performed in New York City during 1934, a total of 10,619 will be wrecked beyond repair by January, 1936.

"One divorce is granted in the United States every three minutes," the report continued, "and a marriage is performed every 30 seconds. More than three per cent of all divorces are secured by couples married more than 30 years. Wives are granted 73.5 per cent of all divorce decrees, and more than 100,000 children are affected annually through the divorce courts."

California beats the State of New York by 1,000 per cent in the divorce records, the report further reveals, with the latter yearly divorcing four of every 100 couples it ties—and more women than men are guilty of misconduct during the first five years of marriage, with the men taking the lead during the second five-year period.

In the realm of alimony—

Women receive more than $936,000,000 annually in alimony in this country on awards granted by the courts of various states. Estimated average alimony is $15 a week, and more than 1,800,000 men have had alimony awards assessed against them in the last 10 years.

In addition, more than $2,000,000,000 flows each year into the coffers of lawyers, courts and others engaged in ironing out marital difficulties.

Cost to the City of New York for housing and feeding alimony prisoners, that is, those jailed for nonpayment, is $4 a day per capita, with year-round alimony jail population averaging 125. More than 6,000 motions to punish for failure to make alimony payments are brought annually by wives in the five County Supreme Courts.

Queried as to suggestions for lowering the marriage failure ratio, Jack Anthony, executive secretary of the League, who directed the study, urged establishments of marital clinics for instruction of couples contemplating marriage on the responsibilites of the state. He termed it "the most beautiful relationship that can exist between a man and a woman."

It's Carpentier-Dempsey Again For Cafe Trade

By MICHAEL WILSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PARIS.—Open your mouth and be knocked out in 48 seconds.

This is the invitation Georges Carpentier, former French heavyweight boxing champion, extends to patrons of his new bar that has just opened near the Arc de Triomphe here. So both contenders in the famous "Battle of the Century" now are in the cafe business for Jack Dempsey has a place in New York.

The "48 Cocktail" is the name of the drink that Georges maintains will put over the haymaker painlessly.

"I call my cocktail the 'Fortyeight' because I knocked out Joe Beckett in London in 48 seconds. It was my quickest kayo," Carpentier explained.

Impeccable in London-cut clothes and still known as France's best-dressed boxer, Georges appears to enjoy taking customers' orders.

Bombardier Billy Wells, English fighter, was the inspiration of Carpentier's idea to open a bar. "I've had so many drinks at his place in London that I wanted to be able to fix him a good one myself here in Paris," Georges declared.

The bar is furnished in modern style with impressionist pictures of athletic scenes on the walls.

"Iron Mystery" Is Being Solved

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH,—Iron— perhaps the world's most important manufactured product—has finally become the subject of a scientific study designed to determine its true nature.

Headed by Dr. R. F. Mehl, a group of scientists in the Metallurgical Research Laboratories of Carnegie Institute of Technology are seeking to learn exactly the composition of "true iron."

Iron, as it is commercially known, Dr. Mehl explained, is loaded with a vast number of impurities. The most important of these are carbon, sulpher, manganese, nitrogen and oxygen.

These impurities, the scientist asserts, are commonplace in the usual grade of commercial iron which has always been used in the manufacture of steel and steel alloys. Although iron and steel have been produced by "rule of the thumb," scientific reasons for the behavior of the metals have never been explored completely, Dr. Mehl said in explaining the investigation.

OATS PRODUCTION

HARRISBURG, April 10—Pennsylvania produced 24,900,000 bushels of oats, valued at $12,950,000 last year, according to the state department of agriculture. Somerset is the leading oats growing county, with Berks a close second.

HISTORIC TEMPLE IS NOW RACE TRACK

PEIPING—The famous Temple of Heaven here is being turned into a track for horse racing.

The mayor of Peiping inspected the grounds, filled with cedar trees, which surround the Temple and Altar of Heaven, and decided that it would make a good race track.

The object of this innovation is to attract tourists to the city.

The Temple of Heaven is one of the best-known buildings in China. When its use as a temple was discontinued, a part of the temple grounds became a place of execution for criminals.

Cooperation Is Urged On Public

State Relief Director Asks Aid In Purging Relief Rolls

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, April 12.—Public co-operation was urged today by Robert L. Johnson, state relief director, in his campaign to purge the relief rolls of "chiselers."

"The public must co-operate if the public is to get the service which we are in duty bound to give them," Johnson declared at a luncheon of the University club.

"When you individually find a case of misuse of public funds, it is your duty to see that this misuse is stopped," Johnson said. "To protect ourselves we must cooperate to see that no individual gets more than the necessities until such time as we can provide him with an opportunity to earn his luxuries."

Estimating that 5 per cent of relief recipients were "chiselers," the relief director asserted criminal prosecutions would be brought against persons receiving money under false pretenses.

Johnson denied the Pennsylvania relief organization was dominated by "the highly organized group of social workers" and asserted county executives were given full authority to "hire and fire" their employes.

"I do not intend to hire anyone for any reason other than his fitnes for the task to which he may be assigned and I do not intend to discharge anyone except for unfitness," Johnson said, declaring he had been appointed by Gov. George H. Earle with "a distinct understanding that there would be no political fooling around."

Answering attacks that relief administration costs of 7.3 per cent are too high, Johnson said: "As a matter of fact, they are too low." He said more investigators were needed to prevent unworthy persons from receiving relief.

"The administration has nothing to hide," Johnson declared. "It welcomes any investigation that has as its purpose increased efficiency in relief administration. If any persons outside of the organization can tell us how to improve our work, those suggestions will be as acceptable as if it were an organization person who made them."

Dog With Fortune Has Big Funeral

(International News Service)

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., April 12.—Husky, an 11-year-old cocker spaniel who enjoyed luxury provided by a $2,000 trust fund, has joined his mistress in death. His passing was marked by a funeral in keeping with his pampered existence.

Encased in an expensive casket, the dog was buried in a fenced enclosure which formerly had been his exercise ground. Services were conducted.

Mrs. Christian Ott left the trust fund for care of the animal when she died in 1933. For two months preceding his death, Husky had been a patient at a swanky dog hospital.

Underworld Men Lack In Courage

So Declares Director Hoover Of U. S. Bureau Of Investigation

(International News Service)

BALTIMORE, April 12.—Declaring women in the underworld "the most dangerous sex in crime," J. Edgar Hoover director of the U. S. Bureau of Investigation, told the Southern Maryland society here that he has "never found any man in the underworld who had real courage—they never fight unless they are heavily armed and have you in a corner."

In a resume of the bureau's work, Hoover touched lightly on the Hauptman case. He said:

"I never saw a colder man, a more typical criminal than that man. He showed the most calculating cunning when he was being questioned. He never answered a question without counting ten first.

"Some persons have doubted whether Hauptmann was guilty. We who have worked with the case have not a single doubt that Hauptmann was the principal kidnaper in the Lindbergh case."

DELAYS FIGHTING FIRE TO MAKE SALE

(International News Service)

SEATTLE, Wash.—Fire Inspector John Reid drove into a service station near Vaughn, Wash., and asked the attendant for a new fan belt.

The mechanic promptly put down a bucket of water he was carrying to his house in back of the station, went into the station, got a piece of string, measured the fan belt with the string, went back and got a new fan belt, found it was too big, went back and got another fan belt and began fitting it in.

Then, just as he had nearly completed the job, he turned to Reid and said:

"I'm sorry, mister, but this will have to wait. My house is on fire!"

Fire Inspector Reid, startled, followed him to the house, from which flames were billowing. Together the two men put out the blaze.

The attendant explained later that he "hated to lose a sale".

Things in Wall Street are said to be so tough that some of the big shots are having to speculate with their own money.

Dust Clouds Are New Detriment To U. S. Aviation

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, April 12.—The strange dust clouds which hang like a pall over several western states were recognized today as a definite new obstacle to aviation.

They extend so far into the sky that planes often cannot get above them and pilots are forced to fly blind, as in a fog, H. H. Gallup, division superintendent for TWA Airlines told International News Service.

Traffic between the west coast and Kansas City was badly disrupted during the furious dust storms yesterday.

"Flying through the dust clouds is much like flying through fog," Gallup said. "It is brownish-gray all around you and vision is completely obscured.

"The dust cloud affects the radio the same as snow or ice. It causes a lot of static. Sometimes you can get on top of the dust clouds and it's like flying over a fluffy brown carpet. But there are other times when the dust goes so far up that you can't get over it."

HOME GOLDMINING BEATS DEPRESSION

(International News Service)

MEDFORD, Ore., April 12.—"Backyard" gold mining is more than meeting depression times in Jacksonville, historic mining town of southern Oregon.

More than $75,000 in gold was sold during 1934 at the Godward Mercantile store where most of the gold changes hands. One man's "take" frequently runs as high as $400 in one day from his little mine.

One of the best paying "diggings" is the mine on Jacksonville's main thoroughfare. California street, which sags considerably in one place as the result of a cave-in.

Relief Funds Are Withheld In Nine States

Lack Of Action To Assist Government Causes Drastic Action By Hopkins

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 12—Federal emergency relief funds for nine states have been held up, it was learned today, because those states have taken no action, or unsatisfactory action to provide their share of the relief burden.

Following a stern warning delivered by FERA administrator Harry L. Hopkins to Gov. George H. Earle of Pennsylvania, that his state would receive no further funds after April 15 unless the state legislature took action to provide $5,000,000 a month toward the relief load, it was learned that April funds have not been allocated to Florida, Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia, Missouri, Tennessee and New Jersey, in addition to Pennsylvania.

States Must Help

Pennsylvania has received funds, or been assured of funds up to April 15, but after that, Hopkins said:

"Pennsylvania gets no more money. There is no reason why the federal government should continue to put up $20,000,000 or more a month, and the state nothing."

The same order applies to all states, Hopkins declared, but expressed the opinion that "most of the states are doing, or will do, their part. In fact, I expect Pennsylvania will do its part."

From the $125,000,000 which President Roosevelt made immediately available for emergency relief after signing the $4,880,000,000 work relief measure, however, Florida, Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia, Missouri, New Jersey and Tennessee have received no allocations.

Hopkins pointed out that, while a number of the states were "planning" to take action, none of these had actually met the requirements, hence their allocations for April had been delayed.

He emphasized that, as soon as FERA was satisfied each state would do its part, each state would receive its allocation promtply.

May Invite Germany To New Parley

(International News Service)

LONDON, April 12.—The British view that a new international conference should be called shortly with Germany invited to participate prevailed today at the tri-partite Stresa meeting, it was stated in an Exchange Telegraph dispatch.

No conclusion was reached or will be reached excluding the possibility of German participation, the dispatch added. Plans call for the second meeting to be held in London.

A communique will be issued tomorrow or Sunday showing the three delegations in agreement on this point, the dispatch said.

Girl Lives Like Tarzan In Forest

Mystery Concerning Woman Found In Wilds Is Solved

By ALEXANDER LUNCAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BUCHAREST,—Mystery surrounding the female "Tarzan" found in a forest in the Carpathian mountains by Rumanian lumbermen, had been solved today.

Police, after a long investigation, established her indentity as Joanna Mandrilla, a mentally affected girl who disappeared from her home several years ago.

The lumbermen were startled by their discovery of the wild girl, apparently between 16 to 18 in a remote district where bears, wild boars and wolves abound. She was clad in a strange covering of woven straw designed evidently for warmth. Tousled red hair dropped beneath her shoulders.

The sturdy lumbermen had to put up a fight to capture her. She bit, scratched, spat and skrieked with demonic strength. Ultimately they overpowered her, trussed her up like an animal and carried her to the nearest police station. There numerous native dialects were tried on her, but no information could be obtained concerning her origin.

Taken to an insane asylum, she refused all prepared food, but played havoc with flowers, grass and plants which she devoured.

Photos and inquiries enabled police to locate her parents. They are poor peasants, and after having had considerable trouble with Joanna, were not distressed by her disappearance.

The girl will be confined in the asylum.

Wonder in being expressed over her ability to remain alive in the midst of the wild animals of the district for so long.

One Company Does Bonding Business Of Relief Heads

Probe Reason For Company Controlled By Joseph Grundy, Getting All Business

(International News Service)

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., April 12.—Rep. John J. Haluska, chairman of the legislative committee investigating relief in Cambria county, charged today that bonds of all relief controllers in Pennsylvania are carried by one company—the Manufacturers Insurance company, of which Joseph R. Grundy is head.

Reopening the relief inquiry, Haluska asked the local controller about bonds, and was informed the Harrisburg headquarters arranged his bond.

Haluska then asserted it is generally known in Harrisburg that "Joe Grundy's company carried all this bonding business and the investigators intended to find out why."

A Heavy Battle Ax.
Premature Strike.
Cry Peace, In Vain.
Where Profits Are.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

MIAMI, Fla., April 12.

TWO MORE have their heads chopped off in Germany. An old, heavy battle ax was used. Old battle axes had to be heavy. It was their duty to cut through or crush down steel helmets worn by men in armor. When armed nobles fought so close together that the battle ax came into play, one nobleman was usually left on the ground.

The two beheaded, Hitler refusing pardon, were Solly Epstein and Hans Zeigler, convicted of helping to murder Horst Wessel, a Nazi national hero.

Killing a man as a chicken is killed is perhaps no worse than degrading the science of electricity, chopping off the head with a guillotine, choking a man to death with a rope, or grinding his medulla oblongata with the garrote.

But imagination is strong and a head chopped off "by hand" impresses us.

STUDENTS of the University of California at Los Angeles were planning an "anti-war" strike and police protection was asked. The strike seems premature, as there is no war yet.

It will be time enough for the young gentlemen to worry about war when it comes, and if it does come, as they were born in America, and are not equipped with white livers, they will go out and fight "as usual," however much they may regret the possibility of not coming back. Man is a fighting animal.

DELEGATES from England, France, Italy, arranging to meet at Stresa, on a tiny island at a safe distance from shore, provide as protection some 3,000 soldiers, police and detectives.

These are troublesome times; no one knows who may decide to shoot. The French demand that "teeth" be put into agreements between the nations; a pledge that the three will unite with military forces to suppress anybody that starts a war.

France and Russia are understood to have reached an agreement to defend each other, Russia to defend France against Germany if necessary, France would help Russia against Japan.

It's the same old story, nobody having found any way of reaching a peace agreement worth the paper used in writing it.

OVERWHELMINGLY, 367 to 15, the House of Representatives decides to "take the profits out of war." A good resolution, but it will not "take the profits out of war." Where there is war there is bound to be profit for somebody, and where there is profit there will be somebody sufficiently cunning to get it.

The old Spartan lawmaker decided to make people lose interest in wealth by making money of iron; so heavy it was not worth carrying. You may be sure some Spartans piled it up in back yards.

Let another war start and you will see big fortunes made, if not in this country, then by dealing with this country from some other country.

BRUNO HAUPTMANN, convicted of kidnaping and murdering the Lindbergh baby, fights the government's attempt to collect income tax on marked Lindbergh bills found in Hauptmann's possession.

The government should be well pleased if it fails to get any of that blood money.

Gangsters, murderers, racketeers are put in jail for not paying income tax, but even the businesslike government should hesitate about taking or spending any part of the money that a father paid in the hope of getting back his child.

That money certainly belongs to Col. Lindbergh, and it is hard to understand how the government can claim $9,768 of it, or one cent.

Perhaps Hauptmann had other money, made by investing the Lindbergh money. But, if so, that also should go to Col. Lindbergh.

DR. JOHN C. GIFFORD discussing the "subsistence homestead," says that a man in this section of south Florida who puts $2,500 into a little home with five acres of ground, should be worth $5,000 in five years.

That depends on the man. If he were another John C. Gifford, he would be worth more than five thousand dollars. But, for the great majority, you may supply house free and land free, anywhere, and there will be no "self-supporting homestead."

Government benevolence may supply houses and land; it cannot supply brains, will power, self control. Only many generations of time can supply those things where they are lacking.

UNDER A NEW law in Cuba, only a Cuban citizen may own a Cuban newspaper. Before he starts he must have at least $5,000; not much, if you plan a newspaper printed on presses that cost more than $100,000 each. But newspaper success has been achieved with less.

The late distinguished newspaperman, Adolph S. Ochs, when a young printer in Chattanooga, printed a city directory from which he made something over eleven hundred dollars. With that money he made himself owner of a Chattanooga newspaper, and through his success on that newspaper he bought the New York Times and taught it to earn several million dollars a year profit.

GREAT OAKS from little acorns grow, when the right man plants the acorn and takes care of the tree.

IT IS announced from Vatican City that Pope Pius, who had planned an encyclical to be published on April 28, against the danger of war, has now abandoned that plan, believing that the encyclical at the moment is not necessary, following his pontifical allocution of April 1.

This is important news. It means that the Pope believes that immediate danger of war is past, and the Pope knows what is going on in the world, by reliable information from every corner of it.

OVER WIDE areas in Kansas, dust storms have destroyed the wheat and farmers give up hope of any crop. NRA enthusiasts may say that Providence should "lose its Blue Eagle" for permitting dust storms.

Others will say that it is foolish to bribe farmers to cut down their wheat planting, since you never can tell what Providence will do, especially when men create conditions that produce dust storms.

ONE FLORIDA legislator wants to legalize gambling "slot machines," taxing them $100 a year, the money to be used for schools.

To legalize machines that makes gamblers to begin with, and thieves later on, of boys and men seems a poor way to promote education.

In New York a city lottery was urged, but that idea died out.

It should be possible to finance the country's necessities, since the money is here, without legalizing any form of crime.

Believe Spikes Were Pulled Out Of Railroad Track

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 12—Charges that human beings deliberately pulled spikes from the tracks, thereby causing the wreck of the Pennsylvania railroad's American flier near Sturgeon last October, were before a court here today.

The accusations were made by a half-dozen officials of the road, appearing as state witness against Robert Edwards, 43, and Alfred Van Shuren, 21, both of Sturgeon, who are accused as the wreckers of the train. Paul E. Black, engineer on the train was killed in the wreck.

Edwards and Van Shuren were expected to plead that their confessions to the crime were forced from them by coercion and that carelessness on the part of the road was responsible for the wreck.

PUT HORSES IN SHAPE FOR HARD SPRING WORK

Are the farm horses in training for heavy spring work or are they standing in the barn eating timothy hay or grain straws?

Horses expected to do hard work later need conditioning. They can be prepared through exercise, good care, and proper feed. Too many horses are put into the field every spring without extra care or feed previously. As a result, they lose in weight and efficiency.

Rations for the horse should be reasonably balanced in protein, carbonhydrates, and fats as for other classes of livestock. A horse engaged in heavy work needs about twice as much protein as the same horse doing light work. If the work is severe, the nutrients must be increased. Home-grown feeds are the most economical. The grains most commonly fed are oats, corn, barley, and wheat, while the usual roughages are timothy, clover, and alfalfa, hay, corn fodder, oat straw, and silage. By-products fed include bran, oil meal, and cottonseed meal.

Generally, it is a good practice to feed one pound of grain or grain mixture and one pound of hay for 100 pounds of liveweight. This varies somewhat, however, with the work and speed, as well as the temperament of the horse.

A standard ration of concentrates consists of two parts of oats and one part of ear corn by weight. Every Saturday night bran is substituted for the oats. Oats are keenly relished by all classes and ages of horses and are the safest of all feeds for them. With timothy hay and some oil meal, a satisfactory combination is thus formed.

There are other combinations, however, which will keep the horse in good condition. Corn or barley, with a leguminous hay, has been found valuable in some localities. In all cases, the balance of nutrients should be maintained even when cheaper feeds are ultilized. While a variety of feeds is a good feature, sudden changes and extremes must be avoided to prevent digestive disorders.

VENTILATION NEEDED IN BROODER HOUSES

Brooder house windows should slide up and down like those in the dwelling house. Some window ventilation should nearly always be provided. On warm spring days the top half of the window may be lowered entirely.

Comfortable temperature plus moist outdoor air, obtained by window ventilation, equals less trouble from cannibalism, better feathering, and more uniform and sturdy growth.

PREPARE LAWN MOWER TO CUT GRASS RIGHT

If the lawn mower has not been sharpened, repaired, and oiled during the winter that work should be done immediately.

A sharp mower, properly adjusted, is essential for keeping the lawn neat and uniform. The height of the cut is most important in the control of lawn weeds, particularly crabgrass, and in producing a stronger and more deeply rooted turf.

Set the lawn mower on a concrete or smooth wooden floor just as you take it out of the shop. Measure the distance from the floor to the cutting edge of the bed knife. Now drop the back roller until the cutting edge of the bed knife is at least 1½ inches from the floor. This height should be maintained throughout the summer; in fact, there is no reason why it should be changed at any time during the season.

A closely clipped lawn is more readily infested with crabgrass (fall grass) because crabgrass is a sun-loving plant. It is seldom, if ever, found in shady locations. An abundance of experimental evidence shows that crabgrass is very much less troublesome in turf that is not closely clipped. The reason for this is that the turf grasses, if given a chance, will be as effective in killing crabgrass by shading it out as will dense shade trees. The height of the cut from April 1 to May 1 is particularly important because crabgrass plants are most susceptible to shade when young.

Since the leaves are the food factories for the plant, it stands to reason that a greater leaf area will encourage a deeper and sturdier root system. One of the most effective and incidentally, one of the cheapest ways of combating the weed problem is to encourage a deeper and sturdier root system. One of the most effective and, incidentally, one of the cheapest ways of combating the weed problem is to encourage a heavy turf of thrifty grasses. By controliing the height of cut, as suggested, at least one of the essential requirements of turf culture will have been met.

PLANT EARLY GARDEN AS SOON AS POSSIBLE

Garden time is here again and the smell of newly turned soil is in the air. Early seedings of the hardier vegetables now can be made.

Deep and thorough working of the soil preparatory to planting or seeding is very important in growing any garden crop. Garden soils should be thoroughly turned or spaded, followed by consecutive rakings before the soil dries, until the seedbed is very fine.

Spinach and lettuce may be sown as soon as the soil dries sufficently for raking. Sow one ounce of spinach and one-half ounce of lettuce to 100 feet of row. Cover the seed about one-fourth to one-half inch deep and space the rows from one foot to one and one-half feet apart. When the plants are several inches high thin them to approximately one inch apart and use the thinnings. Later, thin the plants again to two inches and finally to four inches.

Onion sets may be planted as soon as the soil can be prepared. Press them into the soil so that they are covered or make a shallow trench one inch deep, set them in this, and cover lightly with soil. For use as early green onions they may be spaced one and one-half inches apart, but if allowed to mature 3 or 4 inch spacing is better.

Early peas also may be sown as early as the soil can be prepared. They may be planted in single rows two feet apart or in double rows 6 or 8 inches apart. Peas are sown thickly and are not thinned, the stalks being spaced about one inch apart. A covering of one and one-half inches is sufficient for early sowings, but later seedings should be covered a little deeper. Dwarf wrinkled varieties are best..

Well-grown plants of cabbage and kohl rabi which have been hardened to outdoor conditions may be planted as early as the soil is ready, but cauliflower plants are more tender and should be held 10 days to 2 weeks longer before being set in the garden. Cabbage and cauliflower can be planted 18 to 20 inches apart in rows two feet apart. Eight inches apart in the row is sufficient for kohl rabi. Where very little soil is attached to the roots, a cup of water should be applied to each plant when partly set, and loose soil placed around the plant.

Beets, carrots, radishes, and early turnips can be grouped for convenience since they require about the same handling. Sow the seed in rows rather thickly, and later thin to 3 or 4 inches in the row, except radishes which may be left thicker. The rows should be 15 to 18 inches apart. Carrot seed should be covered not more than one fourth inch while the others will stand slightly more covering.

CONFINED BIRDS MAY LAY BETTER THAN FREE RANGE

Many farmers give their layers free range as soon as the weather moderates in the spring. Experiments conducted in several sections of the United States bring out, thought, that if housing conditions, rations, and management are satisfactory, higher egg production might be expected from confined layers than from those given free range. Birds that are housed will eat more grain and mash which are necessary for high egg production.

The eggs produced by confined birds will probably have paler yolks than those laid by birds on free range.

Green feed adds color to the egg yolk. The egg buyer in the city prefers eggs with pale yolks. Then, too, if the birds eat an excess amount of green grass, the flock may lay what we commonly call "Grass eggs". The yolk of these eggs have a green cast and are rejected by the critical buyer.

SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

(Gathered and Edited by Student Reporters)

CONTEST DATE SET

The date for the Latin contest which is held twice a year by the Senatus Romanus has been set for Saturday, May 4, 1935. The ninth graders from the two Junior high schools will participate. Winners will be awarded medals and memberships in Senatus Romanus.

GIRL RESERVE PARTY

The Senior Girl Reserves had a clever party, Monday, April 8, at which time they entertained their boy friends. Since this was a "Backward Party" the girls played the part of escorts for the evening. The hours were spent in dancing and informal discussion. Tempting refreshments were served by the committee in charge.

HI-Y MEETING HELD

The weekly meeting of the Ne-Ca-Hi-Y was held Monday evening, April 8. Robert Young read the Bible followed by short prayers made by several of the members. A very short business meeting was conducted. This consisted mainly of discussion concerning the movie "Sequoia," now being sponsored by the club. The meeting was adjourned early in order that the members might enjoy a swim.

GYM EHIBITION PLANNED

The first football game of the season, May 3, will again be in the form of a festival. Miss McGown has selected an Indian-club and flag drill both to be presented to the same music which will be supplied by the Senior high school band under the supervision of Prof. Replogle.

Practices are now being held weekly and the participants are putting forth a great deal of effort to make this event a success. The student body are encouraged to show their cooperation by attending this game.

SENATUS ROMANUS MEETS

The Senatus Romanus club met for its regular business meeting on Tuesday, April 9. The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Jane Bryan. Floy Ramsey, David Lusk and Jean Copeland were appointed by the Consul Primus. Jas. Hartland as a committee to take charge of the Latin Tournament for this semester. George Kuzma, Robert Rainey, Frank Taylor, Margaret Mary Wadlinger and Floyd Ramsey were appointed as the nominating committee to select the officers for next semester. The meeting was then adjourned by the Consul Primus.

MUSICAL CHAPEL ENJOYED

On Wednesday and Thursday of this week the students of the school were given a special and unusual treat when the orchestra and band played several of their numbers which will be given in the contest to be held today and tomorrow at the high school.

PRACTICES IN PROGRESS

P. H. Bridenbaugh, athletic coach states that football practice is coming along in first class order. The team is now beginning to form in order to hold scrimmage practice at the Taggart Stadium practice field.

The team does not practice on the same field upon which you see them playing in the games. If they were to do this the grass and the field would be ruined in a very short time. The team uses a practice field which is directly south of the playing field, and inside of the steel fence.

GOLF DISCONTINUED

Golf classes were discontinued indefinitely this week. This was done due to the fact that "Dike" Monsey, the instructor and manager of the New Castle golf course is needed very much at this time at the golf course. They are putting the course in condition for the on-coming season.

Farmers of French Indo China may use American agricultural implements.

The husband was looking admiringly at a lovely girl at the dance and his wife was annoyed.

Administration Wins In Relief Project Plans

Townsend Old Age Pension And Lundeen Unemployment Insurance Measures Doomed

MAY INJECT PLANS IN OTHER BILLS

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 12.—Flushed by their victory over the Townsend old-age pension and Lundeen unemployment insurance forces, House leaders today were confident of keeping President Roosevelt's economic security program intact.

As the House entered its second day of debate on the measure, both conservative and liberal forces were rallying for attacks when the measure reaches the voting stage next week.

The Townsend $200-a-month pension plan is believed to be doomed, even though other attempts will be made to write the plan into the bill.

The Lundeen unemployment insurance measure, which provides $40 a month for every person out of work and $3 for each dependent, also is believed to have been crushed.

Merge Forces

Joining forces, the Townsend and Lundeen groups attempted to force the issue by defeating a liberal rule for consideration of the administration measure. They polled but 103 votes to 279 against.

Representative McGroarty (D) California, author of the Townsend plan, conceded its defeat, but a committee of Townsendites is exploring parliamentary method of amending the bill to accomplish the purpose of Dr. Francis E. Townsend.

While the parliamentary experts are divided, it appeared possible that the essentials of both the Townsend and Lundeen bills could be written into the administration measure.

The Townsend forces, however, appealed for a special vote on the McGroarty bill as a whole, rather than try to accomplish their ends by piecemeal amendments.

While the leaders were beating off "liberal" amendments, they also were confronted by a nation-wide propaganda campaign against the nine per cent payroll taxes carried in the bill.

Republicans planned to obtain a roll call vote on a motion to eliminate compulsory old age insurance, as distinguished from grants to states for voluntary old-age pensions.

This provision carried ultimately a six per cent payroll tax, variously estimated to raise from $1,500,000,000 to $2,000,000,000 a year.

A bi-partisan bloc sought to knock out all payroll taxes, including those for unemployment insurance.

CUT ASSESSMENT ON LEGION-OWNED LOT

Council met as a board of revision today and after considering a complaint about the tax assessment on the lot in the rear of the Legion home cut the valuation from $8,000 to $7,000. The complaint was made by the Legion home officials. The Legion has rented the lot for gasoline station purposes.

Will Limit Weight Of Loads To Be Hauled Over Paving

When council met in the city building today Councilman D. O. Davies submitted a motion that Solicitor Robert White prepare a bill which will limit the weights that trucks can haul over Cedar street between Mahoning avenue and Cherry street.

The mayor agreed with Davies that if trucks carrying heavy loads continued to travel over the recently paved street the amiesite paving would not stand up. Council adopted the motion unanimously.

Payroll Tax Will Prolong Depression

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 12—The nine percent payroll tax carrier in the president's economic security bill will prolong the depression, Rep. Allen Treadway of Massachusetts, ranking Republican on the House Ways and Means Committee, charged in a speech in the house today.

Citing the enormous future tax bill, which may reach three billion dollars under the bill, Treadway demanded drastic revision of the measure.

Textile Industry Needs Protection

Warning Given Industry Will Be Wiped Out By Japanese Competition

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 12. — A warning that the entire textile industry of New England will shortly be wiped out unless the government moves immediately to curb the flood of cheap Japanese cotton goods into this country was given today by Gov. James M. Curley of Massachusetts.

Heading a delegation of nearly all New England governors, gathered here in one of the most impressive demonstrations of public officials against cheap foreign competition ever witnessed in the national capital, Curley, in an interview with International News Service, said:

"The fate of the New England textile industry hangs in the balance. Unless the Japanese competition is curbed, the textile industry in New England will be wiped out.

"We cannot compete with the Japanese goods. Japan is underselling us fifty per cent in our own market.

"In the first two months of this year Japan sent to this country approximately 9,000,000 square yards of cotton cloth. This represented almost 2,000,000 square yards more than Japan sent here in all last year and eight times as much as in all of 1933.

"If that situation is permitted to continue unchecked the New England textile industry is doomed.

"There were 37,000,000 textile looms in New England fifteen years ago. Today there are 6,300,000 working and 4,000,000 idle."

Schmeling Given Ultimatum Today

NEW YORK, April 12—Jimmy Johnston, Madison Square Garden matchmaker, announced today he will talk with Max Schmeling via trans-Atlantic telephone tomorrow in a final effort to induce Schmeling to fight Max Baer, heavyweight champion, in this country.

If Schmeling refuses to leave Germany, Johnson will announce the Garden's challenger for Baer's title after the telephone conversation.

It is believed the Garden will name James J. Braddock, number one contender of the New York State Athletic Commission, to meet Baer in June.

Voiceless Man Delivers Talk

Southern Society Of Clinical Surgeons Hear Voiceless Man Talk

(International News Service)

BALTIMORE, April 12.—A short talk by a voiceless man, speaking with the aid of an artificial larynx, featured the meeting of the Southern Society of Clinical Surgeons here.

Dr. Edward A. Looper introduced to the assembly a patient who had his larynx removed two years ago as a result of a cancer. Although he wore a tracheotomoy tube which entered his neck, he could not utter a sound.

However, after taking out a made-to-order larynx, resembling somewhat a Dawes smoking pipe, and inserting one end in the tube and the other in the mouth, he was able to tell the surgeons all about it. This instrument, having a rubber diaphragm and ebony case, is similar to a miniature telephone. It enabled the speaker to produce the vowel sounds, ringing them to his mouth, where they combined with the consonant sounds of his tongue and lips, to produce a gramaphone-like voice without variations in pitch that does not resemble his original voice.

Artificial Larynx.

The patient removed the artificial larynx from the tube and showed that the tracheotomy tube can be used for smoking as well as for breathing and talking.

An artificial heart, which does the work with diseased, damaged or frozen blood vessels, was also shown the surgeons. The apparatus consists of a glass vacuum chamber with a complicated delicate small pump attached. The glass fits over the arm or leg and the pump creates an alterating vacuum and then high pressure in the chamber which acts as a heart in forcing the blood to circulate in the limb. It is used in cases where the blood supply of a limb is threatened and is applied for a limited period each day.

Interest Grows In Meetings At Epworth Church

This Will Be Observed As Sunday School Night; Rev. Harold Sutton To Preach

The interest in the special meetings at the Epworth Methodist church has been increasing the past fe nights and the service last night was the best in interest since the meetings began. Rev. Harold Sutton preached an excellent sermon on "The Spirit Filled Life" and followed it with a most helpful and enthusiastic altar service. Rev. Sutton will preach again tonight. This will be Sunday school night and all teachers from and inculding the junior department up through the adults will attend.

Homer Welch has charge of the music and will be in all the services on through Sunday.

He has planned a big program for Saturday evening to begin at 7 o'clock with 150 well trained children taking part in the program. They have been rehearsing for several days and will meet again for rehearsal on Saturday afternoon at 1:30.

This program on Saturday evening will last about an hour and should have a large audience. No admission is to be charged. A free will offering will be taken at the service.

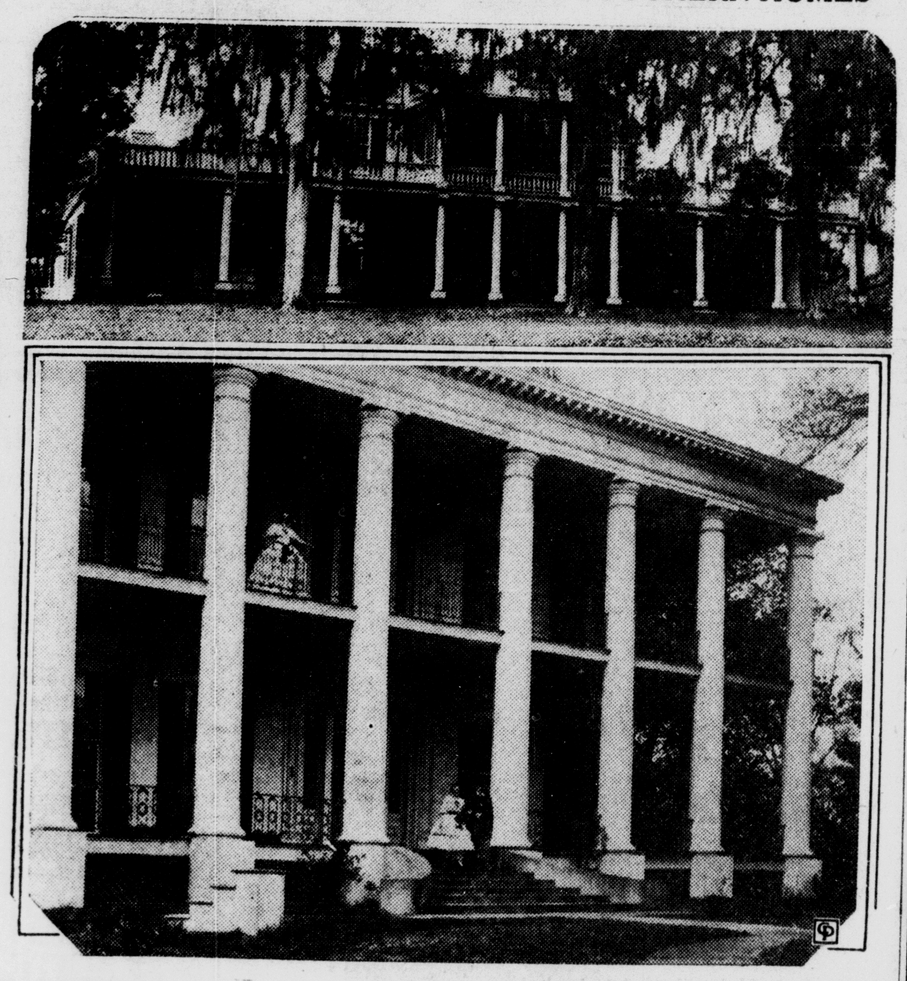
OLD HOUSES TYPICAL OF EARLY SOUTHERN HOMES



Top, "Linden", former home of U. S. Senator Thomas Reed; below, "Dunleith", built in 1847.

In the early days of the republic Natchez, Miss., was one of the wealthiest and best known towns in North America. Famous soldiers, poets, artists and statesmen gathered there, and the cream of society was entertained in the elaborate plantation homes surrounded by cotton and worked by slaves. Two fine examples of the architecture of this period, "befo' de wah", are shown here, above, "The Linden", now the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Feltus, but once the residence of Thomas Reed, first U. S. senator from Mississippi. Below is "Dunleith", built in 1847. The pictures were taken during the recent "Pilgrimage Week", when prominent citizens re-enacted early scenes.

Blood Poisoning Fatal To Student

(International News Service)

CARLISLE, Pa., April 12—Infection of a slight leg cut accidentally suffered while undergoing a fraternity initiation today had claimed the life of Richard Beitzel, 18, a freshman at Dickinson college.

Authorities said they learned from members of Phi Delta Theta fraternity that Beitzel cut his leg while hiking through a field at night as part of initiation about two weeks ago. They said he had been instructed to have the wound treated by a physician but that blood poisoning later developed.

In plainer English, they've got the stock market fixed now so that you can't lose money unless you've got it.

Organize For Memorial Day

Ralph M. Campbell Is Named Chairman Of Committee Again This Year

COMMITTEES WILL BE NAMED LATER

Organization of the committee for the annual observance of Memorial Day took place at a meeting in the Legion Home building last evening.

Ralph M. Campbell, who has been chairman of the arrangements for this evening for a number of years, was again named chairman, with Coroner Orville Potter as secretary.

The chair was authorized to appoint the various standing committees to have charge of the arrangements for the day, which will take on the same form as in the past, it was voted. Announcement of these committees will be made at an early date.

An effort is going to be made this year to have a parade of the veterans organizations and patriotic societies, which will be in keeping with the occasion. Two new organizations will be in line this year, the American Legion Junior band and the Sons of the American Legion, which should stimulate World war veterans to turn out in larger numbers than they have the past few years.

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 12.—A bill asking the Federal Emergency Relief administration for a complete accounting of $2,909,020,000 which it has handled since 1932 was approved by the state appropriations committee Thursday.

Sponsored by Senator Couzens (R), Michigan, the measure asks of the FERA a report containing the following information:

1. Distribution of funds to states.
2. Information of the data required of states before allotments were made.
3. What cooperation or assistance was required of states.
4. What loans were made to states and what agreements were demanded.
5. Any other information as to distribution, accounting methods and other facts.

Couzens said he would make every effort to have his resolution adopted as speedily as possible.

THE "Laxative Question"

DOCTORS SETTLED IT, LONG AGO.

UNDER the doctor's care, or in the hospital, you would get a liquid laxative. And the liquid form is what you would use at home, if you knew what a doctor knows!

A liquid laxative can always be taken in the right amount. You can gradually reduce the dose. Reduced dosage is the secret of real and safe relief from constipation.

The right liquid laxative gives the right kind of help, and the right amount of help. When the dose is repeated, instead of more each time, you take less.

Once you have experienced this comfort, you will never return to any form of help that can't be regulated to suit the need.

The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains senna and cascara, and these are natural laxatives that form no habit — even with children. Its action is gentle, but sure. It will clear up a condition of biliousness or sluggishness without upset. You'll like its taste, and like its action. It's pleasant to take, and won't sicken you like a violent cathartic.

So, try Syrup Pepsin. Take regulated doses until Nature restores regularity. Those who have made the "liquid test" know why most doctors favor a liquid laxative like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Get a bottle today.

BE CAREFUL

IF any laxative makes you thirsty, affects your appetite, seems to burn, or requires larger doses than when you first began its use — change to a liquid laxative!

Western States Resemble Desert Result Of Dust

Will Take Millions Of Dollars To Reclaim Land, Officials Report

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 12.—"The world is on fire out there.

"We will be able to save some of the land, reclaim it, if we soon get some rain. Some portions will be desert for years to come, in spite of all we can do. acres that were fertile, capable of producing rich crops.

"Unless there is rain soon, it is hard to say how much this nation will lose. We cannot know all the suffering."

Pessimistic Outlook

These were the pessimistic words of H. H. Bennett, chief of the Agriculture Department Soil Erosion Bureau, concerning the dust storms before he left for a speaking engagement in Chicago today.

Bennett and his aides have perfected their relief and reclamation machinery for the emergency. He is ready to step in and begin the land healing work when the sweeping, hot breath of the storm slows down.

But this work cannot go on until the storms abate. Until they do, all the soil experts in the world can do nothing, except pray for rain, he said. It is a waiting game until then.

Meanwhile, senators and house members from the affected states wired their governors to have the state relief agencies appeal to the FERA for immediate funds to supply farmers with gasoline and oil to run tractors in work designed to alleviate the disastrous effects of the storms.

Millions Involved

Kansas already has received a quarter of a million dollars for this work, and Texas legislators were assured today their state will soon receive funds.

This was for the strictly emergency phase of the work. Bennett said an additional two million dollars would be needed immediately for the important work of protecting the land against further ravages as speedily as possible. His program has been worked out so as to dovetail into the work done with the emergency relief money.

Back of the whole program today stood President Roosevelt, who assured legislators from the stricken states that he was ready to go as far as was necessary to supply relief.

Farmer Is Found Suicide Victim

PITTSBURGH, April 12.—The body of John A. Docherty, 73, Kennedy township, was found today by members of his family, hanging by a rope from a rafter in the attic of his home, according to a coroner's report. A son told the coroner his father had been despondent over ill health.

VERDICT IS RETURNED IN DR. RUSSELL CASE

In the case of Dr. Elmer B. Russell against Margaret R. Cummings, James G. Patterson and Howard P. Cummings, executors of the late John W. Cummings, which was tried before Judge James A. Chambers, the jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $5,545.83. The case was one growing out of a dispute as to the balance due on a mortgage.

Overdose Of Drug Provides Clue To Loss Of Millions In Greatest Gem Robbery

By JOHN GOETTE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PEIPING,—An overdose of heroin became the "truth drug" which caused a minor employe of a goldsmith firm to provide police with information which brought them nearer to solving the greatest robbery of modern times in China, that of the rifling of the imperial tombs of priceless treasures of the late empress dowager.

The tombs were dynamited in 1928, and first impression was that the crime was the work of mutinous troops. Then it turned out to be the work of a gang. But in seven years no culprit has been punished nor has the government recovered any of the jades, jewels and other treasures valued at many millions. Some of these may now be in some collectors' hands in the U. S.

After swallowing the heroin, the employe walked into the Bureau of Public Safety and unburdened himself of a confession, at the same time handing over three letters containing details of how he was to purchase 260 of the pearls of the empress-dowager.

The man was taken to a hospital and is now recovering. When the effects of the drug had worn off and he realized what he had done, he explained that he wanted to get even with the firm which had failed to give him his share of the "cut" on the contraband pearls. Police are following up the leads he gave them.

Michigan Woman Gives Opinions

Says "Thrift And Foresight Would Have Prevented Burden Of Relief"

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 12.—Thrift of individuals and old-fashioned foresight would have prevented the government's present "extreme" relief burden, Mrs. Bina West Miller of Port Huron, Mich., told delegates to the state convention of the Woman's Benefit association here today.

Advocating a back-to-the-land movement, Mrs. Miller said:

"The millions spent in relief during the past five years would go a long way to furnish housing and land and some stock so that personal industry would bring a living."

Other addresses were delivered by Miss Nellie E. Lounsbury, Warren, Pa., and Judge Lois Mary McBride, Pittsburgh.

Delaware Slayer Dies On Gallows

Self-Confessed Slayer Of Two Men Mounts Gallows At Dover, Del., Today

(International News Service)

DOVER, Del., April 12.—With the solemn strains of "Nearer My God To Thee" still ringing in his ears, John C. Morgan, 44, self-confessed slayer of two men, climbed the 13 stairs to the gallows today and was hanged in the Kent county prison yard.

The trap was sprung at 10:14 and Morgan was pronounced dead at 10:35 a. m.

He paid the supreme penalty for the murder last December of Dominique J. Pierre, 63-year-old Felton farmer. He had also confessed the slaying of Frank Foster of West Dover in July, 1933.

SKIN BLEMISHES ARE EASILY CLEARED UP 9 CASES OUT OF 10

Authorities Agree That Muddy Complexion and Unsightly Pimples Can Be Corrected By Purifying Blood Stream.

New, Scientific Medicine, Called Indo-Vin, Mixes With Food, Cleansing Inner System Almost as Nature Would. Costs Only a Trifle.

Just a few days ago a noted authority here in New Castle after watching many middle-aged and young women pass by, remarked: "Nine out of ten of those women who have skin blemishes could clear their faces up and have a healthy, peach-like complexion if they only knew how.

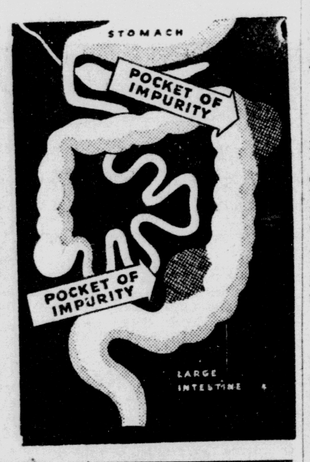
Many women, otherwise attractive, have unhealthy looking skin because their systems are poisoned. Yet, in most cases, it is a simple matter to cleanse the blood stream, to overcome skin eruptions and to make yellow, muddy complexions smooth and attractive. Women are achieving these results, not with yeast tonics or cure-alls, but by taking the new, scientific mixture of extracts made from nature's plants, called Indo-Vin. This new formula of natural medicines is being introduced to the public here in New Castle at Eckerd's drug store.

HOW IT ACTS

Indo-Vin is taken after meals. It mixes with the food in one's stomach. In this way it helps nature in her work of purifying the blood and stimulating lazy glands, thus bringing all the nourishment out of your food and building up red blood corpuscles which are so important to a healthy skin.

At the same time, Indo-Vin has a great action upon the liver. By cleansing this vital organ, fresh bile starts flowing and performs almost magic action on the stomach organs, removing old impurities from the lining of the stomach which may have contaminated the system for months. It helps restore to normal the secretions of the stomach's digestive juices.

Indo-Vin will also cleanse the intestines by gently stimulating the weak intestinal muscles and by breaking up hardened waste matter.



Unhealthy Complexions, Especially Among Women, Are Generally Caused By Toxic Poisons That Enter the Blood Streams From Constipation.

Indo-Vin will cleanse your bowels (gradually—not drastic or severe) as they were NEVER CLEANSED BEFORE and tone them into better daily action. It will remove the poisons that cause skin eruptions, dizzy spells, headaches, foul breath, exhausted feeling and broken sleep.

This new medicine is not a mineral salts or pill and not a powder or capsule, and it does not contain alcohol. It is a scientific formula containing a combination of nature's ingredients not found in any other known medicine.

It contains 22 extracts from the finest medicinal plants, and not one a harmful drug. It works with nature, bringing you relief as nature herself would. In mild cases, by driving out the toxic poisons from the system, it has cleared up muddy complexions and unsightly pimples within three days. Severe cases of long standing have often been so completely relieved that former sufferers said that after their skin clears up no sign of blemishes return within six months after treatment. In most cases relief is permanent and sure.

While Indo-Vin is being introduced in New Castle every person can try it at the small cost of only a few cents a day for the treatment.

Indo-Vin is now being introduced to the public daily here in New Castle at Eckerd's drug store. Also being sold in all the nearby towns by every good druggist throughout this whole New Castle section.

Revision Bill To Be Reported

State Senate To Get Constitutional Revision Bill Next Week

BILL IS REVISED IN COMMITTEE

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 12.—Legislation setting up machinery for revision of Pennsylvania's 60-year-old constitution, drastically changed from the form in which it passed the house, will reach the senate floor next week, it was announced today.

Senator G. Mason Owlett, Tioga, chairman of the constitutional changes committee, said the bill as revised for senate action provides a referendum September 17 on holding a constitutional convention. If the referedum is favorable, delegates would be elected November 5.

The committee reduced the number of delegates to be named from 129 to 70, of which 20 would be elected from the state at large, together with one each from the 50 senatorial districts. The number of delegates was reduced to permit their names to be used on voting machines along with candidates for local offices.

To Delay Date.

As passed by the house, the Ruth administration bill scheduled a special election May 14 to elect 27 statewide delegates and three district representatives from each of 34 congressional districts for a convention to meet June 4.

The effect of the senate changes would be to delay the effective date of any new constitution from next January 1, as proposed by the administration, at least until June 1, 1936.

As the committee acted to report the revision bill, it was learned the governor's office was awaiting passage of the legislation before calling a meeting of the advisory committee named by Governor Earle to pave the way for the convention by studying the problem in advance.

All but five of the 67 persons named to this committee have accepted their posts, the executive office records showed. Former U. S. Senator George Wharton Pepper and Gen. W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania railroad, declined to serve. Atterbury suggested Henry W. Bikle, counsel for the railroad, as an alternate and he was appointed. Those from whom no word has been received were Leon Falk, Jr., Pittsburgh; Professor Elmer D. Graper, Edgewood, and Henry H. Wilson, Beaver Falls.

"But in the general problem of research jobs," she said, "you are apt to find they may be highly useful."

Business Men Are Optimistic

Leaders Of Big Business In Country Say Business Is Going To Pick Up

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 12—Business is going to pick up! Yes, Sam Insull, Jr., said that four years ago when he referred to the "recent depression".

Earle Offers To Meet Senate On Tax Program

Will Invite Them To Office To Compromise Deadlock On Finances And Relief

MUST HAVE PLAN GOVERNOR SAYS

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 12.—Gov. George H. Earle today asserted that "the minute the Republican senate announces a tax program" he will invite them to the governor's office to compromise the twin deadlock over finances and relief.

The statement was the first direct offer from the executive himself to bring about solution of the muddled tax situation in the legislature which is threatening the continuance of relief after next week.

There are strong indications the senate, which has bottled up the administration's $203,000,000 new tax program, will reveal details of an alternate plan next week. This substitute program is expected to increase administration estimates of present taxes and slash relief and other appropriations. Some of the governor's taxes, and possibly some new ones suggested by the senate, are expected to be pieced into the G. O. P. outline to make income meet outgo.

"The minute the Republican senate announces a program to meet this crisis I will invite them to the governor's office to sit down and discuss the situation in an effort to reach a compromise," Governor Earle said.

He said that newspapermen would be invited to sit in on the compromise meetings "to let Pennsylvanians know exactly what is happening."

It has five thirty inch blades and will be drawn by a tractor which the city has at the golf course.

Town Is Sinful; Asks For Prayers

Mayor Proclaims Day Of Entreaty For Divine Intercession

(International News Service)

VANCOUVER, B. C.,—Distressed by the sins of his fellow citizens, Gerald G. McGeer, Mayor of Vancouver, proclaimed a "day of prayer" and urged all officials and citizens to entreat "Almighty God" for forgiveness.

Mayor McGeer declared "we have fallen on evil days because we have forgotten God."

"The calamity of depression which now desolates the land and our community, no less than others, may be but a punishment inflicted upon us for our presumptuous sins," he added.

He set forth his belief that cities, like individuals, are subject to punishment and chastisement in this world by divine law.

The proclamation read in part:

"We have fallen upon evil days because we have forgotten God. We have forgotten the gracious hand which has preserved us in peace.

"We have vainly imagined the deceitfulness of our hearts, that all these blessings were produced by some superior system and virtue of our own.

"Intoxicated by the success of a purely material prosperity, we became too self-sufficient to feel the necessity of rendering and preserving grace; too proud to pray to the God who made us.

"It behooves us then to humble ourselves before the offended Power, to confess our civic sins, and to pray for clemency and forgiveness."

Since Mayor McGeer's recent election a drastic shakeup of the Vancouver police department has taken place. It was his first step in ending sin in Vancouver.

Michael Russo Named As Fireman

Michael A. Russo, 706 Pearson street, today was named by council as a paid fireman. He succeeds William E. Howard, who resigned recently. Russo was certified with William Bowen and George Ward as being eligible for appointment.

He was recommended for the job by Councilman D. O. Davies. Councilman J. D. Alexander offered a second to Davies' motion that Russo be appointed. The action which was taken when council met in city hall was unanimous.

Has anyone tried setting his radio set inside the furnace when a congressman was on the air?

Secret Sessions Being Planned

House Committee Will Hold Secret Session On Utility Holding Company Bill

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 12.—After weeks of testimony by opponents of the administration utility holding company bill, the House Interstate Commerce committee today prepared to begin consideration of the measure behind closed doors.

Only two more witnesses remain to be heard, Walter M. W. Splawn, interstate commerce commissioner, and Dozier Revane, solicitor of the federal power commission. They will give testimony in rebuttal to arguments by utility representatives against abolition of holding companies, encompassed in the bill.

Although Chairman Rayburn of Texas, of the committee, recently denied he had agreed to modify the measure, non-partisan opposition evidenced by its members to forthright dissolution of utility holding companies within five years indicated drastic revisions before the bill is finally reported to the House.

Country Facing Land Problem

Permanent Soil Erosion Program Needed To Confront Serious Situation

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, April 12.—A permanent soil erosion program, with cooperative action between the federal government and private conservation agencies, was urged today before the Isaac Walton league by H. H. Bennett, director of the soil erosion service of the department of agriculture.

Such a program, he declared, is essential "to meet the land waste crisis confronting the nation."

"We propose a program of land conservation to replace the old system of exploitation which already has gone much too far," Bennett said. "We are prepared to demonstrate—we are demonstrating—that the impoverishment and destruction of our remaining areas of good agricultural land can largely be controlled."

Not only does the program call for replanting of thousands of acres of worn-out land to grass and trees, but it calls for protection of streams from sedimentary pollution, Bennett pointed out, and thus makes possible conservation of fish and water fowl. The replanting in grass and trees will make possible conservation of all kinds of wild life, he said.

Body Of Ochs Laid To Rest

(International News Service)

HASTINGS-ON-HUDSON, N. Y., April 12.—While a cold rain beat down, the body of Adolph S. Ochs, publisher of the New York Times, who died Monday in Chattanooga, Tenn., was laid to rest this afternoon in the mausoleum of Tennessee granit built for him last year on the hillside of Temple Israel cemetery.

An escort of Yonkers police and state troopers cleared the way for the funeral procession of 44 cars from the New York city line to the cemetery. The procession was headed by eight open cars laden with flowers.

Close relatives of the late publisher followed the casket into the mausoleum, while other ranged themselves outside beneath a canopy on which fiber mats had been strewn.

"Hugh" and "Huey"—the same word misspelled twice.

Former Spanish Princess Suffers Loss Of Blood

(International News Service)

ROME, April 12.—Hemophila, the curse of Spain's royal family, may be threatening ex-King Alphonso's recently married daughter, Princess Beatrice Torlonia, it was indicated today.

Princess Beatrice, who married Don Alessandro Torlonia, whose mother was the former Elsie Moore of Chicago, was reported to be bleeding profusely after a minor operation in a Paris hospital.

Students Planning On Anti-War Strike

(International News Service)

LOS ANGELES, April 12.—Intense feeling prevailed today on the campus of the University of California at Los Angeles as the hour approached for the scheduled anti-war strike of students.

A flaming cross illuminated the campus during the early morning hours as groups of students in automobiles swept through streets in the vicinity of the university distributing handbills which declared:

"Communism will not be tolarated on this campus."

At the same time other handbills calling on students to strike in a protest against war were distributed by supporters of Miss Celeste Strack, asserted leader of the pacifist group.

Governor Earle Will Compromise

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, April 12.—Representative Morton J. Witkin, Republican leader of the House, today declined to "comment for the present" on Governor George H. Earle's offer to compromise the dual stalemate over Pennsylvania finance and relief.

Republican State Senators Clarence J. Buckman, floor leader, and John J. McClure, chairman of the finance committee, could not be reached for comment. McClure was reported to be out of the state until Sunday evening, while Buckman was touring Bucks county.

Baggy Flannel Search Ends In A Loss To Art

(International News Service)

IOWA CITY, Ia., April 12.—Because persons accused Grant Wood of seeking publicity, the world will never see "The Bath—1890", a picture which the noted artist long contemplated painting.

And the ancient suit of red flannel underwear, sufficiently baggy at the knees, which he obtained for $10 to play a leading role in the picture, will probably rot in disuse.

The red flannels were, in fact, the cause of the trouble. Newspapers widely published details of his search, and subsequent purchase, of the baggy fannels, finally obtained in Minneapolis. Some said it was a publicity stunt.

To prove that it wasn't, Wood decided not to paint the picture.

Transfer Prisoner To Alcatraz Cell

(International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, April 12.—Transferred to Alcatraz federal prison from Lewisburg, Pa., at his own request, William P. Gempp today had filed application with the United States District court here for release on a writ of habeas corpus.

He contended he had been sentenced in 1932 to one year and three months in the federal prison at Lorton, Va., for a federal offense. He escaped, he said, was recaptured, and sentenced to another term of one year and three months in Lewisburg. He contended the terms should have run concurrently and that he already has served his time.

"EDUCATED" DEER LOST TO TRAINER

(International News Service)

HORRINGTON, Wyo., April 12.—"America's only educated deer," Billie Colorado, now lies buried recently beneath the branches of an apple tree from which he had snatched his favorite fruit on the ranch of S. V. Coffman here.

Billie was adopted by Coffman when the fawn was a few hours old, seven years ago. He brought it up on a bottle and made it an "educated" deer.

He was so successful that he traveled over seven western states, exhibiting the animal. Billie would pose for pictures, bow to audiences, shake hands, ride merry-go-rounds and cavort with dogs, cats and grizzly bears.

"He could do everything but talk, and he tried awfully hard to do that," Coffman said.

GETS ONE 'BREAK' AFTER ANOTHER

(International News Service)

Nine years ago she was in the Coast hospital, Sydney, for seven months, recovering from a broken neck.

In the interval she broke a leg and injured a thigh.

Common-Law Marriage Of Girl, 16, Held Legal

(International News Service)

DENVER.—Denver sociological religious and legal circles are deep in discussion of the possible effects of a decision of District Judge Otto Bock, in which he upheld a common-law marriage between a 23-year-old youth and a 16-year-old girl.

The man, Richard McDonald, was arrested on a statutory charge and brought before Judge Bock for trial. His attorneys contended the girl could not testify against him, as Colorado law specifies that a wife cannot testify against her husband. She had lived with him for two months, they said, and was therefore his commonlaw wife.

Common-law marriages are recognized under laws of the state.

The jury was sent from the courtroom while attorneys argued the question. The girl, whose name cannot be made public under Colorado laws, admitted living with McDonald previous to his arrest. They had adjoining rooms in a hotel she said, but were frequently together..

Judge Bock then ruled that no statutory offense had been committed as that would be impossible between man and wife. At the conclusion of the hearing he married the couple legally.

Many authorities declared that the precedent would encourage young couples to live together without benefit of a regular marriage ceremony. The state supreme court of Washington ruled in a decision quoted by McDonald's attorneys, that parental consent did not apply to comon-law marriages.

Tammany Hall Shows Defiance

Charges Effort To Destroy Organization To Re-elect Roosevelt

SAYS GOVERNOR IS PLAYING POLITICS

(International News Service)

ALBANY, N. Y., April 12.—Tammany Hall snarled its defiance on the floor of the legislature Thursday to President Roosevelt and Governor Lehman.

Through Assemblyman Louis A. Cuvillier, veteran Tammany member, the tiger charged Governor Lehman, as the intermediary for President Roosevelt, with trying to destroy the New York county Democratic organization to insure the renomination of the president in 1936."

The bitter attack followed reading of a brief message from the Governor charging the assembly with flouting the will of the people in refusing to pass the legislative reappointment bill.

"Governor Lehman," shouted Cuvillier, "is playing politics, pure and simple. It is unfortunate for the Democratic party, in control of all branches of the state government, that its calmness and serenity should be disturbed by the governor, acting as intermediary for the president of the United States, in trying to destroy that great Democratic organization, Tammany Hall."

Cuvillier charged that the president has determined to wreck Tammany because it opposed his nomination in 1932

Relief Money Being Given To Hauptmann Fund

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, April 12.—Bitterly attacking the Bruno Richard Hauptmann defense fund campaign for stirring up racial feeling, Stanley H. Howe, acting commissioner of welfare, Thursday charged that residents of Yorkville, populous German district, are giving of their home relief money to the defense fund.

The attack of Howe, who has received death threats for refusing to issue a license to Mrs. Anna Hauptmann for the defense meetings, followed notice of legal action served on him by Alphonse Koeble, an attorney representing the defense fund.

Will Stand Pat

Reiterating he would stand pat on his negative ruling, Howe said: "In these times when every dollar is needed for philanthropic work, we should not set a precedent by permitting collection of funds for such a purpose. Racketeers may work their way into this and the money may not even go where it is intended.

"I am reliably informed that these meetings have been used as a stage for unamerican propaganda and for stirring up of abortive human emotions, resulting in the hissing of the name of an international hero and the applauding of the name of a convicted criminal in this country illegally."

In 1933 the average annual per person consumption of fluid milk and cream in the United States was less than a pint a day.

STAMP NEWS FROM EVERYWHERE

BY JOHNRAE EARL, SEC. NEW CASTLE STAMP CLUB.

Hello collectors! The latest news and request this week is to support the House of Representatives bill No. 1411. The content of the bill is as follows: "Be it enacted by the senate and house of representatives of the United States in congress assembled,—That, notwithstanding any other provision of law, the pictorial representation for philatelic purposes of postage and revenue stamps, issued, under the authority of the United States or any other foreign government shall not be unlawful if such pictorial representation is in compliance with such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the postmaster general. Nothing in this act or the rules and regulations prescribed hereunder shall be deemed to alter, amend or repeal the laws relating to the counterfeiting of such stamps. Section 2.—This act shall take effect on the first day of the second month next succeeding the date of its enactment."

This is the text of the bill about which collectors are being urged to write their senators and representatives, urging passage. In case anyone interested does not know the address of their senator or representative I will be glad to give you same by addressing me in care of The News. Enclosing return postage. If this bill is passed it will mean a great deal to all collectors. As it is at the present United States stamps cannot be illustrated in the Standard Catalog, and because of this it is very difficult in some cases to find the stamps which you desire to look up. I am sure that you won't regret it if you drop a card or letter to your representative in Washington urging that they support this bill.

Connecticut Stamp

Not much more can be said about this stamp than what appeared in these columns last week. The description, however, is somewhat clearer this week and will bear repeating with the additions.

It will compare very favorably with the Wisconsin, although the designs are entirely unlike each other. The reproduction of the Charter Oak is at the left of center of the stamp. At the extreme left in a vertical panel is the word "Connecticut," and on the opposite side the word "Tercentenary." In the upper left hand corner will be the year "1635" and in the opposite corner "1935." This stamp will be different from most commemoratives in the respect that it will be printed from a rotary press instead of the flat press as most all other commemorative stamps are. The stamp however, will not be perforated with the aid of the new "Electric Eye" system.

"Electric Eye" Stamps

While I have mentioned this system I might state that I was fortunate enough in seeing a complete sheet of these stamps in Ellwood City last Tuesday evening. They were secured at the Beaver Falls post office and were owned by a Beaver Falls collector. I was greatly interested in seeing these because there is a great deal of talk in the stamp world regarding them. I was somewhat disappointed at seeing them because the idea of this new machine is to center the sheets in the machine so that perfect perforations may be secured. The way that collectors have been discussing this method I was prepared to see absolutely perfect stamps, but in place the stamps were as badly "centered" as those printed by the regular process. The regular two cent stamp is the only one being experimented with at present. This sheet was printed from the first plate made, the number being 21149. This number appears opposite the third stamp down instead of beside the first. On the opposite side of the stamp from the number appears rather wide short red dashes which the electric eye utilizes in centering the sheet. My idea was that these dashes would be narrow, but instead they are rather wide and short. New Castle post office did not receive an allotment of these stamps as yet. If this experiment proves unsatisfactory these trial stamps will jump in price and will in a very short time become prized stamps in a person's collection. In the event that this machine is perfected these first stamps that are rather poorly centered will be rather valuable also.

Junior Stamp Organization

The New Castle Public Library has very graciously offered to sponsor a Junior Stamp club in cooperation with the New Castle Stamp club. Miss Joyce, librarian for the children's department, is a very ardent collector and is very much interested in forming a club. Miss Sterling decided to call the first meeting for Thursday, April 11, directly following the close of school. The library has very generously donated the use of the "story hour" room in the basement of the library. This is a very worthwhile undertaking and the senior club has been endeavoring for quite some time to establish a club of this type.

Will Answer Questions

I will be pleased to answer any of your questions regarding stamp collecting. If you have any that you would like answered address your communication to me in care of The News and either mail or drop it into The News office. Please enclose return postage for your answer and if possible I will answer the question and return it on the day received. The next meeting of the New Castle Stamp club will be announced later. The date is not known at the present time because we are contemplating changing the date.

Reno Divorce Is Unrecognized By Courts Of France

Rule That Comtesse Le DeBur, Is Not Entitled To Sum Of $198,000 By Divorce

(International News Service)

PARIS, April 12—Comtesse LeDebur, the former Gladys Olcott today lost a suit to recover 3,000,000 francs (about $198,000) from her Reno-divorced husband, and also failed to win French recognition of the American decree.

The Seine Tribunal ruled the Reno divorce was illegal in France because both she and her husband, Captain Waddington, did not reside in Reno when the decree was granted.

The Comtesse had filed suit to legalize the Reno divorce in France and, in suing for the money, claimed her former mate had spent the amount from her own funds. She now is in Hungary with her two children. Her suit was handed by Paris attorneys.

HONOLULU, T. H., April 12—Major Ben M. Sawbridge, U. S. A. today refused to confirm or deny reports he would marry Ann Harding, beautiful film star, upon the completion of her next picture.

"I neither deny nor affirm reports," Major Sawbridge said. "But any statement Miss Harding wishes to make is all right with me. Let her do the talking." But Ann "won't talk."

REV. MacLENNAN TO BE SPEAKER

Plans have been completed by New Castle Rose Croix Chapter, A. A. S. R. for their annual public observance of the Feast of the Paschal Lamb, on Maundy Thursday, April 18.

This occasion affords a rare opportunity for residents of New Castle and vicinity to witness the celebration of a traditional feast, the "Mystic Banquet," celebrated by the Hebrews in commemoration of the Passover; by the Christians in commemoration of the resurrection of our Lord; and kept as a symbol by Knights Rose Croix.

The guest speaker of the evening will be Rev. A. Gordon MacLennan, Orator of Gourgas Lodge of Perfection, of the Valley of Pittsburgh, who is pastor of the Shadyside United Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh, who will deliver the address in commemoration of the occasion.

The celebration will consist of a ceremony which will take place on the Cathedral auditorium stage, and will include the officers of New Castle Rose Croix Chapter and the Consistory Choir, accompanied by the Cathedral organ.

There will be a prelude of organ music starting at 8:15, followed by the ceremony at 8:30. The service will be concluded at 10 o'clock, Most Wise Master George F. Beitsch, states.

The solution of world problems is not dictatorship but dig-tatership.

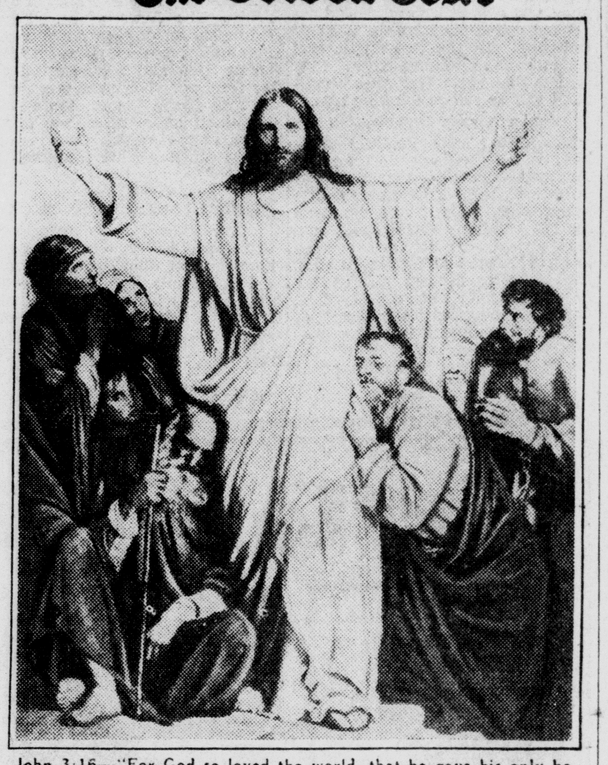
Christ The Saviour

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text



John 3:16—"For God so loved the world, that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life."

(The International Uniform Lesson or the above topic for April 14 is Luke 2:11 30-32: 15:3-7; John 3:14-17: 10:9-11, 14-16, 27, 28; Acts 3:1-18 Rom. 5:1-11; Phil. 2:5-11: II Tim. 1: 9, 10, especially John 3: 14-17: Rom. 5:6-10; Phil. 2:5-11, the Golden Text being John 3:16, "For God so Loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son that whosoever believed on him should not perish, but have eternal life.")

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

Our Lord Jesus Christ is a "teacher come from God" and as such he has revealed to us the truth about God as no prophets before or since have done: he is a perfect example of holy living and we can do no better than to follow in his steps: he went about doing good healing all manner of diseases and bringing a sample of heaven on earth in his daily life of love to enemies and friends alike.

A Saviour of Sinners

But Jesus came primarily not as teacher, example or miracle worker but as saviour of sinners. Before his birth he was given the name "Jesus"—which literally means "the saving one" as the angel of the Lord told Joseph, "thou shalt call his name Jesus: for he shall save his people from their sins. "Likewise the angels heralded his birth to the shepherds as "good tidings of great joy to all people for unto you is born a Saviour which is Christ the Lord." Of him in his infancy the aged Simeon sang prophetically to God as "thy salvation, which thou has prepared before the face of all people." All this is in line with Jesus' own statement that "the Son of man is come back to seek and to save that which is lost."

The Good Shepherd

Jesus likened his mission to the world to the relation of shepherd to lost sheep and declared "I am the door: by me if any man enter in, he shall be saved....I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly. I am the good shepherd: the good shepherd giveth his life for the sheep." This relation of love Jesus fulfilled literally though it cost him the laying down of his life on the cross.

The Supreme Test of Love

Paul exalts the cross as the supreme proof of God's love: "God commandeth his love toward us in that while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us....For if when we were enemies, we were reconciled to God by the death of his son much more, being reconciled, we shall be saved by his life." God made all the advances. His is "love divine all love excelling." It cost Christ the surrender of his perfect equality with God which he exchanged for equality with humanity, and servitude unto the death of the cross. For all this God has highly exalted his Son and we too should exalt him as "our Saviour Jesus Christ, who hath abolished death and hath brought life an immortality to light through the gospel."

Rumor New Rift In Married Life Of John Barrymore

(International News Service)

HOLLYWOOD, April 12.—Hollywood's gossip circles today impatiently awaited some definite proof of the latest rumors concerning a break between John Barrymore, famed film star, and his beautiful wife, the former Dolores Costello.

One rumor was to the effect that Mrs. Barrymore and her two children, Dolores Ethel Mae and John Barrymore II, today would desert the palatial hilltop mansion which Barrymore built for Miss Costello at the time of their marriage, and take up residence in an apartment.

Maintaining her customary silence, Mrs. Barrymore definitely refused to comment on her marital affairs.

Maurice Costello, father of Dolores, declared he had no information concerning a break between the pair.

GOSSIPERS PEEVED WHEN WOMAN REDUCED 21 LBS.

Never Felt So Good In 20 Years

Gossipers who tell you reducing is harmful or that you don't need to reduce (when your mirror tells you differently) probably wouldn't want to see you the slender woman you can be if you'll take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a cup of hot water every morning — tastes fine with juice of half lemon added.

Kruschen can't harm you—it's a health treatment—physicians prescribe it. If one jar (lasts 4 weeks and costs but a trifle) doesn't take 12 lbs. off you—money back.

Mrs. J. C. Bosham of Callaway, Va., writes: "I was too fat to have good health. I weighed 228 and after taking Kruschen for a month I lost 21 lbs. and feel better than I have for 20 years." New Castle Drug Co., Eckerd's Drug Store.

Youngster Puts Up Game Battle

Operation Performed On Back Of Robert Drake, Terribly Injured In Fall

Little Robert Drake, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Drake of Richelieu avenue, is putting up a game battle for his life in the Jameson Memorial hospital, and seemingly is winning out.

The youngster suffered a fracture of the vertebrae of his back when he fell over the cliff at the top of the Croton avenue hill onto the tracks of the Pennsylvania R. R. several weeks ago.

An operation has been performed on his back in the hopes of making him well again, and some improvement is now noted.

Truck Driver Is Victim Of Attack

Two Gunmen Fire Upon Philadelphia Truck Driver And Wound Him In Abdomen

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, April 12.—Despite an emergency operation to extract a bullet from his abdomen, surgeons today held little hope for the recovery of John Greco, a 19-year-old coal truck driver, shot down by two gunmen on the steps of his home here.

According to witnesses, the youth had just stepped from his home when his assailants leaped from a machine and each fired one shot.

Greco could not give any clue to the men who attempted to kill him. "I'm not a gangster and I'm not tied up wtih any rackets," he told detectives.

Plan To Disarm Gangdom Through New Crime Bills

Senate Crime Committee Strikes At Gangdom Through Rigid New Bills

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 12.—Striking at the very heart of gangdom, the senate crime committee opens hearings next week on a bill designed to disarm the underworld.

The bill, introduced by Senator Copeland (D) of New York, would place unprecedented restrictions on the sale and shipment of firearms.

Federal Offense.

It would make it a federal offense for any criminal or fugitive from justice to ship or carry any kind of a firearm across a . te line. It would make the possession of a firearm by such a person presumptive evidence that it was shipped in violation of the law. The bill also would take from gangland its favorite weapon—the sub-machine gun. Under the bill it could be sold only to law enforcement officials.

Manufacturers and dealers in machine guns and other firearms would be placed under strict licensing provisions and required to keep a permanent record of all shipments and sales. This provision, Copeland said, would give the bureau of investigation "much greater control over their public enemies than they have had under existing laws."

More than 21,000 persons in Germany are now employed in toy factories.

NEWEST LIFEBOATS MADE UNSINKABLE

(International News Service)

PORTLAND, Ore.—The mouth of the Columbia river is to be safeguarded by one of the largest and best equipped lifeboats in the world.

The craft, designed to be non-sinkable, self-bailing and self-righting, is a part of equipment at Point Adams station.

Its twin, the only other lifeboat like it, has been assigned to Sandy Hook, N. J., where the Morro Castle and Mohawk disasters occurred.

The new boat, 52 feet long, has accommodations for a crew of 12 men and 30 passengers in sheltered compartments. It is powered by a 150-horsepower Diesel motor. Fifty passengers can be accommodated in smooth seas.

Designed and built for the most strenuous weather, a clever arrangement of valves are designed to turn the boat upright within five seconds in case it is turned over by heavy seas. Water shipped in heavy seas runs to a special compartment where it is automatically dumped overboard. The 35-ton boat cost $60,000.

SEEMS SHE LIKED FIRST HUSBAND BEST

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 12. — A strange will was revealed in the probate court here in which a woman asked that her body be cremated and the ashes buried in the grave with her first husband.

In her will, Mrs. Elizabeth J. Dann also asked that her second husband, whom she claimed deserted her in 1923, be given only $5 of her estate. The estate will be divided between three daughters and a son who said they would carry out the provisions of the will.

PIGEON PIE!

(International News Service)

SOMERVILLE, Mass.—A pigeon made its nest in the newly made fluffy lemon meringue pie of Mrs. Walter L. Hovey, which had been set on a window sill of her home to cool.

AROUND CITY HALL

Police chronology for 24 hours ending at 3:30 p. m. April 11, five arrests on charges as follows: Exceeding time limit 4, and parking too near a street intersection 1.

Some of these days some proprietor of a place which dispenses alcoholic beverages and permits dancing may refuse to pay for a dance permit which no doubt will result in an arrest and court trial. The proprietors have paid a neat sum of money during the past three months to the city but have received no refund provided for by a city ordinance. The controller requested an opinion from the city solicitor and the latter ruled the refunds were legal. Apparently the controller does not concur in that opinion and has refused to honor the refund although council has approved such a step. The controller does not believe there should have been a charge made for allowing dancing and apparently the only way a refund can be secured will be through a court suit which the controller would not object to, it is reported. In connection with the foregoing it is reported the chief of police has informed the city solicitor of the places entitled to a refund for the month of March. They are as follows: Bay of Naples, $5.00; The Castleton, $3.00; Cooper's casino, $21.00; Elite cafe, $11.00; Joy Gardens, $3.00; Rendezvous, $24.00; Riverside Inn, $7.00; Riviera, $1.00; Savage hotel, $13.00; Vogue gardens, $3.00, and Zoilonski gardens, $2.00. A charge of $1.00 is levied for each day dancing is permitted and the proprietor is supposed to receive a 90 per cent refund of the amount paid, providing the permits cost $3.00 or more.

Four persons compose the present clean-up force at Cascade Park. It is said two additional workers will be employed about April 16. Several new flower beds will be built, a large number of plants having been reared during the winter in the park hothouse. The city proposes to ask the RWD to assign some men to help fix up the park for the summer season.

According to an informant, 17 concrete posts, cast for the purpose of holding street and traffic signs have been stolen. Each of the posts according to the informant, weighed several hundred pounds. If the report is true, someone must have had quite a job. It was said that the posts make excellent "poles" upon which clothes lines can be fastened.

Among the new nicknames in the city is "Gimme-a-Nickel." He's a young chap, according to Acting Chief of Detectives John Gamble Moore, who's first words upon meeting an acquaintance is: "Gimme-a-Nickel," hence the nickname. Every day or more some odd name is given someone and like measles, it catches.

Frank Nugent reported today that the Disposal plant farmland is too wet for plowing. No doubt garden plots will be distributed again this year. . . . Before anyone plants or removes a bush or tree between the curb and the sidewalk application should be made to the Shade Tree commission. . . . Some persons have worked out back taxes to the amount of several hundred dollars through the hiring of their trucks to the city.

Ahem, here's a new racket that will not meet with public popularity. It's the theft of grave markers. A few days ago a bronze marker was stolen from an East Washington street market maker and today a report from Pittsburgh stated that 50 bronze markers had been stolen from various cemeteries in Braddock and vicinity. Some carried the names of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign wars and Spanish-American. It is believed the thieves may attempt to dispose of them to some unscrupulous junk dealer.

LOVES TO EAT THIS CEREAL, IT CHECKED HER CONSTIPATION*

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Helped Miss Kesterke

We quote from her letter: "Three years ago, I became constipated.* I tried many laxatives. But as soon as I got used to each kind, I began to get the same trouble.

"Last summer I was on my vacation. They served Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. I just loved it. I eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN every morning, and ever since I have not had to take any more laxatives."—Miss Margaret Kesterke, Cresskill, N. J.

*Due to insufficient "bulk" in meals.

Tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to aid elimination. ALL-BRAN is also rich in vitamin B and iron.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is gentle. It resists digestion better than the fiber in fruits and vegetables, so it is often more effective.

Isn't this food safer than risking patent medicines? Two tablespoonfuls of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. If seriously constipated, use with each meal. See your doctor, if you do not get relief.

Use as a cereal, or in cooking. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

LADY LEGISLATOR HAS TO UNCOVER

(International News Service)

VICTORIA, B. C.,—Dame Fashion took one on the chin in the senate British Columbia legislature when Mrs. Dolly Steeves, comely new lady member, arose to address the legislature assembly wearing a chic hat.

The head piece drew the fire of Herbert Anscomb, Victoria Conservative, who protested that she had no right to wear the hat.

"Well, I'll wear it anyway," Mrs. Steeves declared.

The speaker informed the fair member that Mr. Anscomb was right, and the head-gear came off in recognition of the time honored rule that permits a member to wear a hat in the House, but requires him to doff it when addressing the chair.

The British Columbia rule, Speaker Perry explained, requires that a member "must be uncovered when addressing the House." This refers to the head, he said solemnly.

LONG FORGOTTEN GRAVE DISCOVERED

(International News Service)

CARLISLE, Pa., April 12.—Long forgotten, the grave of a Colonial general has been discovered by LWD workers in the corner of a field on a farm near Hickorytown in Middlesex township.

A flat marble stone, worn and broken by the ravages of time, revealed to workers employed in effecting a country-wide registration of graves of war veterans, the burial ground of General John Miller, who died January 10, 1812, in his 67th year.

Celebrate Tenth Anniversary Of Hebrew University

Jews throughout the world are celebrating this month the tenth anniversary of the establishment of the Hebrew university which was dedicated on April 1, 1925, by the late Earl of Balfour. Located on the historic Mount Scopus, overlooking the Dead Sea, the Jordan river, and the plains of Moab, the university has grown from a single building devoted to chemistry research, to an important institution of scholarship which has attracted to its staff some of the most noted men of learning in the world.

At present the university includes the Albert Einstein Institutes of Physics and Mathematics, the Jewish National and University Library. Soon there will be a large medical centre, consisting of the Rothschild-Hadassah University hospital, the Nathan Ratnoff schooi of Tropical Medicine and Hygiene, the nurses' home, and clinics and laboratories.

Viewed from the angle of an ordinary university, the Mount Scopus institution has no moulded traditions, no inherited usages, not even an academic dress. It is not a university in the ordinary sense of the term which conjures up a vision of broad and placid campuses, acres covered with faculty buildings, instruction in medical and other sciences and law, a magnificent sports stadium crowded weekly with thousands watching football games.

Indeed, it is not a tenth anniversary which the university is about to celebrate; it is the continuation of the famous Jewish seminaries, universities, too, in that sense of the word, at Sepphoris and Tiberias in Galilee, at Caesarea in Phoenicia, at Yobnah in Judaea. This painstaking and precise accumulation of knowledge is reflected in the Hebrew university and its institute of Jewish studies, where the lore of the sages is the subject of research, study and instruction.

The study and teaching of ancient wisdom peculiar to the Jewish people are coupled with instruction in the classic arts and humanities and with modern scientific research and tuition. In these subjects of human progress lie the peculiarly composite functions of a university, and all the more so because of the Jewish contributions to civilization and the scope of their value which the Hebrew university mirrors.

An amazing statement about a refrigerator? Not if you know the Norge Rollator Refrigerator.

The surplus-powered Rollator Compressor is almost everlasting and it actually does improve with use! That's a proven fact. A Rollator on factory test, instead of becoming less efficient with use, became more efficient, used less current.

And that Rollator Compressor, by the way, has been running for the equivalent of 33 years in your home. It's still running.

We say Rollator Refrigeration effects household savings up to $11 a month. Ask your Norge dealer to prove it. Ask him for actual facts and figures to prove every statement he makes. He can do it. For the Norge is that kind of a refrigerator—and Norge dealers are that kind of merchants.

Yankees Sign Joe McCarthy

Yankees Give McCarthy Contract For 1936 Even Before 1935 Season Starts

RUMOR ABOUT BABE RUTH SQUELCHED

By DAVIS J. WALSH
(International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, April 12.—Since there seems to be some current agitation over just who is to be the successor of Manager Joseph V. McCarthy, in case the latter fails to win the American league pennant with his New York Yankees this year, I think I may be able to furnish a little confidential data on the subject today. The man's successor has already been signed for 1936 and his name is Joseph V. McCarthy.

This was done well before the Yankees arrived back in New York this morning to start a brief series with the Dodgers, the idea having two purposes. They wished to reassure Mr. McCarthy, who, on his record, is always a little timorous about the future, and to allay any misapprehensions Babe Ruth might entertain about the New York job. I think I might be able to help there, too, by stating that Ruth right now is just about able to recall that there ever was a New York job.

Will Buy Stock

They tell me that, finally and forever, Judge Fuchs is soon to move out and Ruth is to move in with the Boston Braves and that the announcement will not be long delayed. I assure this means that Ruth is almost certain to succeed Bill McKechnie as Boston manager at the close of the year and perhaps before, the understanding being that he, Ruth, is to take up Fuchs' stock in the club.

If that's true, I suppose he can't miss in 1936, there being positively no sense in a right fielder being vice president but not manager.

The McCarthy appointment, by the way, closes the Ruth account after years of bickering, mostly, I'm afraid, on McCarthy's side. He had an unfortunate experience in Chicago where he finished first, second and never lower than fourth, but finally wound up finishing on the pavement, with Hornsby in charge. Coming here, he was similarly alarmed about Ruth, the innuendoes of himself and his friends creating a consistantly strained feeling in the Yankee camp.

Split Season For Trout Fishing At Spring Creek Project

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 12.—A split season will be inaugurated this year at the State Fish Commission's model Spring creek project near Bellefonte, it was announced today.

The waters there will be thrown open to anglers from May 18 until June 15, from which time the project will be closed until July 1, when it will be reopened for the balance of the season.

Commenting on the commission's action, Commissioner O. M. Deibler said:

"For a number of years the board has felt that our present trout season was too long and that a split season might work out to a better advantage. By arranging the season in this way, the board will be able to determine whether giving the trout a rest period and the board the opportunity to do additional stocking, in their opinion, some valuable information can be gathered.

"If their present opinions are well founded, such an arrangement might be worked out to apply to the season throughout the state at some future time."

Muny Course Is Open For Play

Only Favorable Weather Needed To Bring Out Players At City Course

Although today is hardly the kind of a day that one might expect for the opening of the season at any golf course, yet the Muny course is now open for play, Manager V. Arthur Smith stated this morning.

The course is all ready for the golfers of the city and only favorable weather is needed to bring them out.

Few changes have been made at the course this spring, but an effort has been made to improve playing conditions as far as possible. Greenskeeper John Reed and his force of men have been working during the week in building up the tees and making them more level. A new tee has been built on No. 12 hole, and some additional draining has been done.

The new fairways mower ordered last week is expected to arrive the first of the week, and the fairways should be smoother and the turf more even than it was last year.

Many memberships have already been taken, Manager Smith reports, and one of the best seasons in several years is looked forward to this summer. Memberships sell for the following prices: Aults over 21, $10; man and wife, $15; youths under 21, $5. These are payable in installments, the $10 memberships on a basis of $4 in April, $3 during May and June, and the $5 memberships, $2 in April, $2 in May and $1 in June. Memberships must be paid in full before June 15. Transient play is $.25 per each nine holes, with the customary special Monday rate of $.25 per 18 holes providing the player starts before 3 p. m. Caddy fees will be 30 cents for nine holes or 55 cents for 18 holes.

Manager Smith will meet the caddies of the course on Saturday morning at 11 o'clock for instruction.

Connie Mack Says Athletics Will Be In Pennant Fight

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, April 12.—On the eve of the opening of the 1935 baseball season, Connie Mack on Thursday predicted a free-for-all scramble for the coveted flag in the American league, because:

"There is not an outstanding club in the junior circuit."

Sizing up the 1935 pennant race, the baseball mastermind told members of the Penn Athletic club that "although most people figure the race to be a three-way fight between New York, Detroit and Cleveland, this is far from being true. Every club in the league has a chance."

"If my players have as much confidence in themselves as I do," Connie continued, "then the Athletics will be in the thick of the championship fight from the start."

NEW BASKETBALL RULES

The season of 1936 for basketball is going to be a period of transition. It will be a year when the method of play will be equidistant between the game as it was witnessed during the past season and the new game as the rules committee plans to have it in another year or so.

The pivot play hasn't been barred yet, but there is now a time limit of three seconds. The center jump hasn't been outlawed entirely, but the jumps are becoming less frequent. And while the basketball court hasn't been made smaller, the space on which the players are eligible to roam is gradually being cut.

Dr. Naismith originated the game back in 1891 but it took 43 years for the fans to learn the rules and method of play sufficiently to get enthusiastic about basketball. The 1934-35 season has been the most successful in the game's entire history.

Just why did the rules committee decide that now was the time for drastic rules changes when the fans had only succeeded in figuring out what the game was all about? We have proof that the spectators liked the cage contests as they were played during the past season, but whether or not they'll like the new game remains to be seen.

And why was the discussion of the zone defense shelved without having any action taken? The merits and defects of the pivot play and center jump have been discussed frequently during the entire basketball season, but neither has been condemned as widely as the zone defense.

Coaches and officials have been unanimous in their opinion that it slows down the game, and it has also been quite frequently stated that the pivot play is the only means of balancing the offense when this defense is employed.

But now that the pivot play has been limited by the rules, the center jump not used so often, and the players forced to keep their distance during tip-offs, the defense will be far ahead of the offense.

Lower scores will be the result in next season's games since all the rules seem to have cut in on offensive tactics. The pivot was perhaps the most widely used scoring play. Since there is to be no crowding on the tip-offs and the out-of-bounds is to be used instead of the center-jump after free throws, the defensive team will have more of an opportunity to set itself in position.

The rules will be all right if the fans like low-score games, but the impression of the writer is that the spectators like buckets, baskets, and more buckets. Games wherein the scoring is limited usually result in long shots accompanied by no especial method of play. There is no particular skill exhibited in this type of contest when the teams play a game of jump, grab and shoot.

The ruling on the pivot play will take the game out into the middle of the court from under the basket where most of skill of the players has been concentrated heretofore. When a team can maneuver a fast stepping forward into position for a shot under the basket, that's basketball; when the players start shotputting the ball from the middle of the court, if it's basketball at all it is "wildcat basketball."

The game will now probably be one in which the defense will have the offense in check most of the evening. If you think the defensive performers are the ones who thrill the fans, just ask yourself what makes players like Bennett, Milanovich, Sweeney, Haarlow and Birch so popular. It's points gathering, of course.

Next season the court coaches will need only a fast-ball pitcher like Dizzy Dean and a couple of good pinch-hitters, and he'll win his share of basketball games.

Joe Louis To Battle Lazer

Detroit Contender For Heavyweight Championship Will Battle In Chicago

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, April 12.—In the manner of leading the unsuspecting lamb to the slaughter, the promoters of the Chicago stadium tonight will offer a young heavyweight named Roy Lazer to the whimsy of Joe Louis, who is variously known as the "Black Bomber," the "Dark Menace" and the "Bronze Dynamiter."

The supposition is that Lazer is going nowhere in particular and that if he is not murdered, at least he will feel very bad after tonight's prize fight. Louis, of course, is going to fight "large dogs" Carnera next summer for the right to be denied a crack at the heavyweight championship.

The point is, of course, that some 15,000 customers are interested to the extent of paying $25,000 to see the spectacle in view of the fact that Louis should be, (even if he won't be) the next heavyweight titleholder.

Ellwood Board Names Schill As Coach For High School Teams

ELLWOOD CITY, April 12—Guiding Ellwood City High's destinies in the athletic world next season will be a man who is recognized as one of the five best high school coaches in Ohio, Russell J. "Denny" Schill, present head coach at Struthers.

As rumored, Schill was elected at the regular monthly meeting of the Board of Education at the Lincoln High school last night. Six of the seven members were present. W. L. Dean, a member of the athletic committee was absent. J. F. Fitzgerald, chairman, stated that the committee recommended two names be voted on for head coach. That of George "Ganzy" Benedict and Russell J. Schill.

Present Two Candidates

Dr. H. E. Helling asked how the committee had come to such a decision. Director Fitzgerald replied that the committee had split 2 to 1 for Schill, so therefore they compromised and decided to present both names and allow the board to vote on the question. Dr. Helling asked if it was wise to submit a name of a person who had not been re-elected to the school system at the last meeting. The concensus of opinion of the board was known and if the board was compelled to vote on the matter it would only cause embarassment. Mr. Fitzgerald declared that the manner in which Mr. Benedict and assistant coach, M. J. Ferrare were not re-elected was irregular. He stated that the matter should have been referred to the athletic committee for a recommendation, but instead it had been decided without their being consulted. So in order to be fair the committee recommended that the two names be voted on.

The vote resulted 5-1 for election of Mr. Schill. Director J. A. Evans moved that the salary of the new coach as recommended by Supt. Vaughn R. DeLong be passed by the board. This was done, but with Mr. Fitzgerald opposing the motion.

Supt. DeLong stated that he had carefully gone over the 75 formal applications with various members of the board, and the consensus of opinion was that a better choice could not have been made. Mr. Schill has the highest type of recommendations and is qualified to teach general science, social science and phsical education. At the present Supt. DeLong's plan is to have him teach the former. He is of the opinion that it would be wise to separate the coaching from the physical education department. Two or three of the board members thought it would be best for him to be in the latter department, where he can be in contact with all the boys.

After the discussion on the coaching situation, Mr. Fitzgerald announced to the board that he had not been attempting to be contrary but only fair. Now that the board had made its decision he would render the new coach every possible service and co-operation as in the past.

Supt. DeLong stated that if his plan is carried out he would transfer James Anslem from the Junior High as physical director of Senior High. Mr. Anslem is very capable and at present is in charge of physical education in the night school.

No action was taken upon the election of an assistant coach which in all probability will depend upon the recommendation of Mr. Schill. No other elections materialized last night.

Has Enviable Record

Coach "Denny" Schill as he is popularly called, comes to Ellwood City with an enviable record. It is with remorse and regret that officials and citizens of Struthers, O. see him go. During his seven year stay there as a coach, man, and leader in the community, Mr. Schill had endeared himself to the inhabitants.

Mr. Schill was born in Akron, O., where he attended high school and starred in football, basketball and baseball. He then went to Baldwin-Wallace College from 1924 to 1928, where again he made a name for himself in all three sports. Here his team was Ohio conference champions in 1928 in football, runner-up in basketball in 1926-27-28, and conference champions in baseball in 1927. He played quarterback, forward and short stop respectively.

He came to Struthers High school in 1928, where for the past seven years he has compiled a remarkable record. In football his teams have won 53 games, lost 9, and tied 4: in basketball won 88 and lost 38; in baseballall won 36 and lost 10. In 1930 his football team won the state championship. His teams have the reputation of never having been defeated twice consecutively by the same opponent. Among the opponents of Struthers High, which is a small school, are such strong teams as four Youngstown schools, six Akron schools, Steubenville, Warren, Cleveland, Glenville, Canton, Massillon, Erie Academy and Strong Vincent and Farrel. In football he uses a variation of the Warner system with single, double and triple wings and punt formation.

Impressive Wedding At Baptist Church

Miss Zelda Wehman Becomes Bride Of Glenn A. Funkhouser Thursday

ELLWOOD CITY, April 12.—Before an embankment of ferns and palms and amidst throngs of people, Miss Zelda Wehman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Wehman of Franklin avenue, became the bride of Glenn A. Funkhouser, son of Mrs. Julia Funkhouser of New Brighton, in the First Baptist church at five o'clock Thursday afternoon, with the pastor, Rev. B. G. Osterhouse, officiating.

The event was one of the most beautiful and impressive events of the season. After a vocal solo, "I Love You Truly," by Mrs. Osterhouse, the wedding party appeared as Miss Sallee Hazen played the Bridal Chorus from "Lohengrin" by Warner, at the organ. In the solemn procession was the maid of honor, Miss Margaret Bookamer, Miss Hazel Wehman, Miss Bessie Kellar, the best man Russell R. McDanel, Wilbur Kellar, and Phillip Volrath. Little Joan Johnson and Virginia McDonald were flower girls. Little Donnie O'Hara was next as the ring bearer. They proceeded down a white pathway strewn with rose petals.

The bride was a picture of loveliness in a white satin gown with a lace cap and veil and accessories to match. She carried an arm bouquet of roses and lillies of the valley. The maid of honor was attired in a pink lace gown with matching accessories. She carried an arm bouquet of assorted flowers. Miss Wehman wore yellow crepe and Miss Kellar a blue ensemble with picture hat and accessories to match. The little flower girls, Joan Johnson and Virginia McDonald were attired in blue and pink respectively.

The bride was given away in marriage by her father. After the ceremony the newlyweds were flooded with congratulations and best wishes of the many guests.

Later a wedding dinner was served in the dining room of the church with covers laid for 100. The tables were adorned with beautiful flowers and lighted tapers. The wedding table was centered with a splendid wedding cake with a miniature bride and groom.

Following this Mr. and Mrs. Funkhouser left on a short post nuptial trip to a destination unrevealed. Upon their return they will be at home to their friends at the home of the groom's mother in New Brighton.

Mrs. Funkhouser was a graduate of the local high school with the class of '32 and is popular among the younger set here. She has been employed as a secretary at Milleman's Music store here. Mr. Funkhouser graduated from New Brighton High and later went into business training. At present he is affiliated with the Babcock and Wilcox plant in Beaver Falls.

C. R. Cox New Superintendent

Succeeds Thomas Patterson As Head Of Shelby Plant, Ellwood City

Change Was Effective April 1; Announcement Was Made Wednesday

ELLWOOD CITY, April 12—C. R. Cox, former assistant superintendent of the Shelby Tube plant, Ellwood City, succeeds Thomas Patterson, of Gary, Ind. as superintendent, who was in charge here for the past few months, according to an announcement today. The promotion was officially known last Wednesday.

Mr. Patterson was acting superintendent here and a few weeks ago was compelled to go to Florida for his health. Mr. Cox had been in charge of the local plant all this time. Announcement came from the Pittsburgh office stating that Mr. Patterson had gone back to Gary and that Mr. Cox was to be the new superintendent here. An announcement on the bulletin board in the mill stated that J. W. Offutt, former superintendent, will be retained in the Pittsburgh office.

Mr. Cox's new duties were assumed since April 1 it was revealed. He was formerly of Babcox and Wilcox at Beaver Falls and came here as assistant superintendent shortly after Mr. Patterson took charge.

There is much conjecture going on as to who will be elevated to Mr. Cox's position. Unofficial rumors have E. C. Wright, present superintendent of the inspection department, as the leading candidate. This matter is expected to be definitely known in the next few days.

Dr. Halley Gives Inspiring Sermon

Abbreviated Recital Of The Written Word Pleases Large Audience

ELLWOOD CITY, April 12—Last evening Dr. Halley preceded his lecture, with an appeal to his hearers—to form the habit of regular attendance at morning worship every Sabbath morning—and taking their families with them, pointing out to them the advantages, such as the habit of regularity of public worship—forming a strong tendency in helping their children habitual worshippers.

Regular and systematical reading of the Word of God—gave the reader a clear understanding of the teachings of the Old and New Testaments such as you cannot get from doctrinal books written by various authors.

The lecturer gave a very fine message of Paul's last days, as recorded in the latter part of the Acts of the Apostles, and his second letter to Timothy.

His abbreviated recitals of the written word was helpful and inspiring—leaving in the minds of his hearers a great admiration of the courage, and determination of the Great Apostle to reconcile the Jew and Gentile christians, and his willingness to lay down His life for the finished work of the world's Redeemer.

His lecture this evening will be, "The Book of Revelation" this lecture is one that has always been requested—and looked forward to by all the people of the towns and cities wherever he has lectured.

Those wishing to hear, had better be on good time, as a crowded church audience will be in attendance.

In the absence of Rev. B. G. Osterhouse, the choir and congregational singing was ably led by the Rev. A. M. Stevenson.

Rev. J. R. Routledge presided.

During the business meeting a number of plans were formulated for class activities after which games and contests followed with prizes going to Mrs. Charles Wilson, Mrs. Floyd Worrell and Mrs. Thomas Berger.

The guests were served a most delicious luncheon by the hostess who had Mrs. Sharp Johns, Mrs. Joe Kole and Mrs. Carl Johns as her aides. The next meeting will be held on Thursday evening, May 9, at the home of Mrs. C. K. Myers of Smiley Stop.

Hoarding Still Common In U. S., Warren Finding

(International News Service)

ITHACA, N. Y.—The most spectacular change in the business situation noted by Dr. George F. Warren, fiscal adviser to President Roosevelt, and his assistant, Prof. F. A. Pearson, both of the department of agricultural economics at Cornell, is that the interest rates on short term paper have reached the lowest level in many years; and that "this indicates that those who have money do not wish to invest it in the normal way."

"When such a mass of money is available for short term paper," Dr. Warren says, "it is an indication that the hoarding idea is still very prevalent."

Real estate mortgage bonds are still selling at very low prices, the state college economists note.

"When equities are re-establish so that such securities are safe, money for real estate and other active business will be easier to obtain and rates of interest for short term and government securities will probably rise."

Despite shortage of grain and hay crops following the drouth they expected a decline in prices next year if weather is normal, unless price of gold is raised.

A "charm expert" says Will Rogers is one of the ten most charming. You can tell by the income tax figures, too.

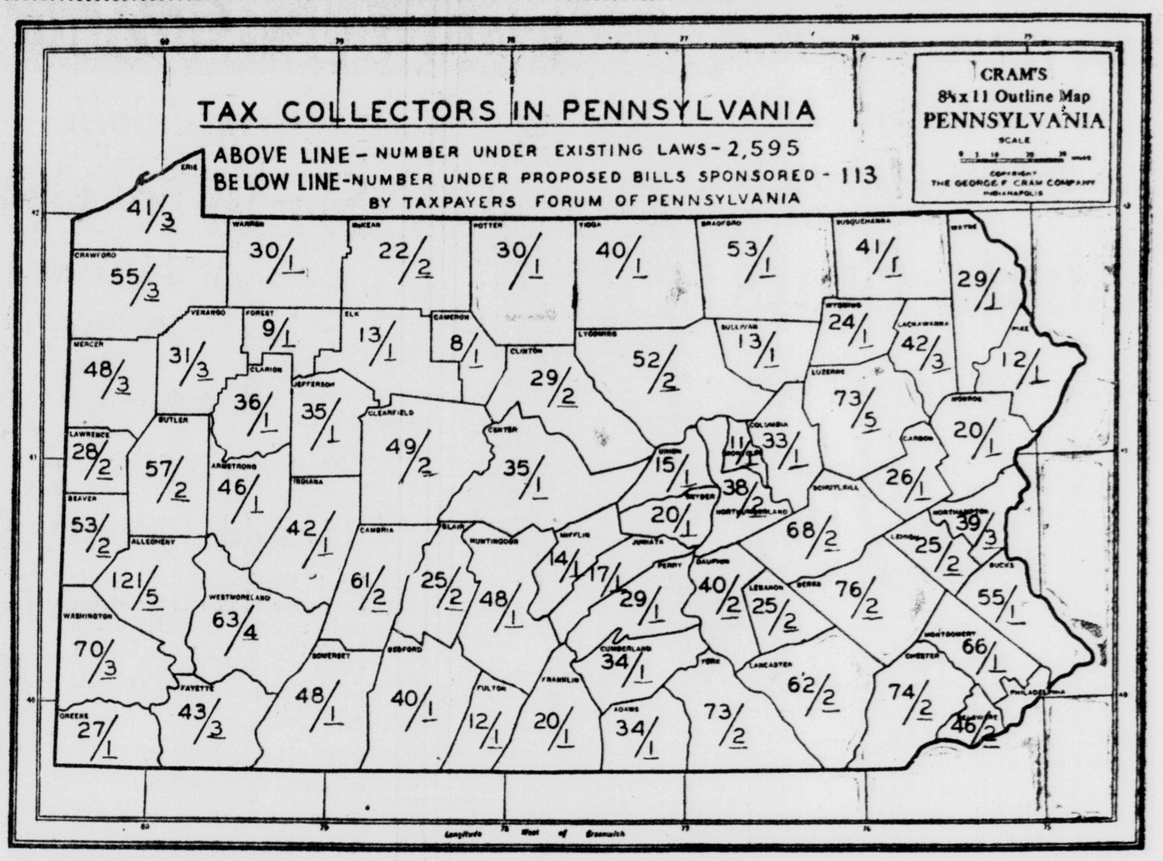
WOULD ELIMINATE MANY TAX COLLECTORS



The above chart shows at a glance the reductions which the Moomaw-Moran unit collection bill will effect in the number of local tax collectors in each county of the state. The elimination of unnecessary collectors, the Taxpayers' Forum estimates, will save more than $3,000,000 a year and give Pennsylvania a system which 32 of the 48 United States are using HARRISBURG, April 12.—Citing the experience of other states, the Taxpayers' Forum of Pennsylvania today urged immediate enaction of the Moomaw-Moran unit tax collection bill as a practical method of getting quick real estate relief.

The bill now before the Legislature is based on a comprehensive survey of the local tax collection system of Pennsylvania and an equally exhaustive study of the unit plan used in 32 of the 48 states.

By eliminating 2,500 unnecessary tax collectors, the Forum estimates the Moomaw-Moran bill will save taxpayers more than $3,000,000 a year.

"States in which local taxes are collected under the unit system have reduced collection costs to a fraction of what Pennsylvania has to pay," Mrs. Charles P. Davis, president of the Forum said. "In Ohio, every $1,000 of county, city borough, township, school and poor taxes is collected at a cost of $3.60.

"Contrast this reasonable expense with the excessive price Pennsylvania pays because the state clings to its ancient system of having a separate collector for every district, no matter how small.

"As compared with Ohio's cost of $3.60 for collecting $1,000 of taxes, Pennsylvania paid an average of $11.15 in 1932.

"Although four times as great as Ohio's cost, the Pennsylvania average does not indicate the real achievement possible under the unit collection plan. The state average is distorted by the inclusion of figures on the cost in Philadelphia where unit collection is an established, economical fact.

"The actual range in local tax collection costs in counties outside of Philadelphia in 1932 was from $10.00 per $1,000 taxes in Erie to $40.00 per $1,000 in Clinton. Counties in which the cost was $20.00 or $30.00 per $1,000 predominated. In various counties it cost $50.00 to collect $1,000 of some types of taxes. The peak cost was the $60.00 which Clinton county paid to collect each $1,000 of county taxes.

"The Forum-sponsored bill wipes out this antiquated system by making the county treasurer the collector of all taxes outside of cities. An additional collector is provided for each city in the county.

"The result is the elimination of as many as 74 collectors in one county (Berks) where two would do the work now distributed haphazardly among 76. Allegheny, with five instead of 121, would have the largest number of collectors left in any county by the Moomaw-Moran bill.

"The proved efficiency of the plan embodied in the pending legislation has won the support of all state and local organizations interested in government economy. It is the basis on which the Forum is urging all taxpayers to enlist the aid of their legislators in obtaining enactment of the bill."

PEAR PRODUCTION

HARRISBURG, April 10—The pear crop of Pennsylvania last year was worth $289,000, with Schuylkill having the most valuable crop of any county, according to the state department of agriculture. The farm price varied from 47 cent per bushel in Cumberland. Snyder and Northumberland counties to $1.18 in Luzerne.

Organize For Memorial Day

Ralph M. Campbell Is Named Chairman Of Committee Again This Year

COMMITTEES WILL BE NAMED LATER

Organization of the committee for the annual observance of Memorial Day took place at a meeting in the Legion Home building last evening.

Ralph M. Campbell, who has been chairman of the arrangements for this evening for a number of years, was again named chairman, with Coroner Orville Potter as secretary.

An effort is going to be made this year to have a parade of the veterans organizations and patriotic societies, which will be in keeping with the occasion. Two new organizations will be in line this year, the American Legion Junior band and the Sons of the American Legion, which should stimulate World war veterans to turn out in larger numbers than they have the past few years.

Seek Accounting Of Relief Funds

Emergency Relief Administration Has Spent $2,909,020,000 Since 1932

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 12.—A bill asking the Federal Emergency Relief administration for a complete accounting of $2,909,020,000 which it has handled since 1932 was approved by the state appropriations committee Thursday.

Sponsored by Senator Couzens (R), Michigan, the measure asks of the FERA a report containing the following information:

1. Distribution of funds to states.
2. Information of the data required of states before allotments were made.
3. What cooperation or assistance was required of states.
4. What loans were made to states and what agreements were demanded.
5. Any other information as to distribution, accounting methods and other facts.

Couzens said he would make every effort to have his resolution adopted as speedily as possible.

FEDERAL BUILDING'S SHRUBBERY BIDS ARE REACHING POSTMASTER

THE "Laxative Question"

DOCTORS SETTLED IT, LONG AGO.

UNDER the doctor's care, or in the hospital, you would get a liquid laxative. And the liquid form is what you would use at home, if you knew what a doctor knows!

A liquid laxative can always be taken in the right amount. You can gradually reduce the dose. Reduced dosage is the secret of real and safe relief from constipation.

The right liquid laxative gives the right kind of help, and the right amount of help. When the dose is repeated, instead of more each time, you take less.

Once you have experienced this comfort, you will never return to any form of help that can't be regulated to suit the need.

The liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains senna and cascara, and these are natural laxatives that form no habit — even with children. Its action is gentle, but sure. It will clear up a condition of biliousness or sluggishness without upset. You'll like its taste, and like its action. It's pleasant to take, and won't sicken you like a violent cathartic.

So, try Syrup Pepsin. Take regulated doses until Nature restores regularity. Those who have made the "liquid test" know why most doctors favor a liquid laxative like Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Get a bottle today.

BE CAREFUL

IF any laxative makes you thirsty, affects your appetite, seems to burn, or requires larger doses than when you first began its use — change to a liquid laxative!

Western States Resemble Desert Result Of Dust

Will Take Millions Of Dollars To Reclaim Land, Officials Report

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 12.—"The world is on fire out there.

"We will be able to save some of the land, reclaim it, if we soon get some rain. Some portions will be desert for years to come, in spite of all we can do, acres that were fertile, capable of producing rich crops.

"Unless there is rain soon, it is hard to say how much this nation will lose. We cannot know all the suffering."

Pessimistic Outlook

These were the pessimistic words of H. H. Bennett, chief of the Agriculture Department Soil Erosion Bureau, concerning the dust storms before he left for a speaking engagement in Chicago today.

Bennett and his aides have perfected their relief and reclamation machinery for the emergency. He is ready to step in and begin the land healing work when the sweeping, hot breath of the storm slows down.

But this work cannot go on until the storms abate. Until they do, all the soil experts in the world can do nothing, except pray for rain, he said. It is a waiting game until then.

Meanwhile, senators and house members from the affected states wired their governors to have the state relief agencies appeal to the FERA for immediate funds to supply farmers with gasoline and oil to run tractors in work designed to alleviate the disastrous effects of the storms.

Millions Involved

Kansas already has received a quarter of a million dollars for this work, and Texas legislators were assured today their state will soon receive funds.

This was for the strictly emergency phase of the work. Bennett said an additional two million dollars would be needed immediately for the important work of protecting the land against further ravages as speedily as possible. His program has been worked out so as to dovetail into the work done with the emergency relief money.

Back of the whole program today stood President Roosevelt, who assured legislators from the stricken states that he was ready to go as far as was necessary to supply relief.

Farmer Is Found Suicide Victim

PITTSBURGH, April 12.—The body of John A. Docherty, 73, Kennedy township, was found today by members of his family, hanging by a rope from a rafter in the attic of his home, according to a coroner's report. A son told the coroner his father had been despondent over ill health.

VERDICT IS RETURNED IN DR. RUSSELL CASE

In the case of Dr. Elmer B. Russell against Margaret R. Cummings, James G. Patterson and Howard P. Cummings, executors of the late John W. Cummings, which was tried before Judge James A. Chambers, the jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $5,545.83. The case was one growing out of a dispute as to the balance due on a mortgage.

Overdose Of Drug Provides Clue To Loss Of Millions In Greatest Gem Robbery

International News Service Staff Correspondent

PEIPING,—An overdose of heroin became the "truth drug" which caused a minor employe of a goldsmith firm to provide police with information which brought them nearer to solving the greatest robbery of modern times in China, that of the rifling of the imperial tombs of priceless treasures of the late empress dowager.

The tombs were dynamited in 1928, and first impression was that the crime was the work of mutinous troops. Then it turned out to be the work of a gang. But in seven years no culprit has been punished nor has the government recovered any of the jades, jewels and other treasures valued at many millions. Some of these may now be in some collectors' hands in the U. S.

After swallowing the heroin, the employe walked into the Bureau of Public Safety and unburdened himself of a confession, at the same time handing over three letters containing details of how he was to purchase 260 of the pearls of the empress-dowager.

The man was taken to a hospital and is now recovering. When the effects of the drug had worn off and he realized what he had done, he explained that he wanted to get even with the firm which had failed to give him his share of the "cut" on the contraband pearls. Police are following up the leads he gave them.

Michigan Woman Gives Opinions

Says "Thrift And Foresight Would Have Prevented Burden Of Relief"

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 12.—Thrift of individuals and old-fashioned foresight would have prevented the government's present "extreme" relief burden, Mrs. Bina West Miller of Port Huron, Mich., told delegates to the state convention of the Woman's Benefit association here today.

Advocating a back-to-the-land movement, Mrs. Miller said:

"The millions spent in relief during the past five years would go a long way to furnish housing and land and some stock so that personal industry would bring a living."

Other addresses were delivered by Miss Nellie E. Lounsbury, Warren, Pa., and Judge Lois Mary McBride, Pittsburgh.

Delaware Slayer Dies On Gallows

Self-Confessed Slayer Of Two Men Mounts Gallows At Dover, Del., Today

(International News Service)

DOVER, Del., April 12.—With the solemn strains of "Nearer My God To Thee" still ringing in his ears, John C. Morgan, 44, self-confessed slayer of two men, climbed the 13 stairs to the gallows today and was hanged in the Kent county prison yard.

The trap was sprung at 10:14 and Morgan was pronounced dead at 10:35 a. m.

He paid the supreme penalty for the murder last December of Dominique J. Pierre, 63-year-old Felton farmer. He had also confessed the slaying of Frank Foster of West Dover in July, 1933.
